CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT ELEVATORS

YOUR HONOR:

I respectfully request your written permission to dispense with inviting proposals in the City Record in awarding a contract to F. S. Payne Company, for inspection and maintenance service for the elevators in the City Hall. The equipment in the building is Payne equipment and since the cost is reasonable and fair, it is advisable for the Payne firm to service it.

The period of this agreement is December 1, 1969, through March 31, 1970, with an option on the city's part only to renew for an additional 12-month period. The cost will not exceed $4,940.

In view of the circumstances, I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

ANTHONY E. FORGIONE,
Assistant Commissioner.

SUFFOLK COUNTY REGISTRY OF DEEDS IBM EQUIPMENT

YOUR HONOR:

The Suffolk County Registry of Deeds is presently leasing and using the IBM equipment for which the International Business Machine Corporation has submitted informal written quotations, as itemized below.

Inasmuch as the above-mentioned company is the manufacturer and distributor, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for prices.

Therefore, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising for bids, and following the effective date of the 1970 Budget, to enter into a contract for the period, April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive, with the International Business Machines Corporation, for the leasing and servicing of the following equipment:

407 IBM Printing Machines at $715 per month for two months, $1,430.

The following for twelve months:

1 Sorter 83-21797, $107, $1,284; 1 Collator 85-10632, $121, $1,452; 3 Typewriter Card Printing each, $119, $4,284; $7,020.

Transportation charge of 407 Printing Machines, $612.

Total amount of above contract not to exceed the sum of nine thousand sixty two ($9,062) dollars.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH D. COUGHLIN,
Register of Deeds.

BOOKBINDING SERVICES

YOUR HONOR:

At the present time the Suffolk Registry of Deeds is using the "Electro Duplex Recording System" for the microfilming and printing along with the looseleaf bookbinding of its records. This service is being furnished by the firm of Hall & McChesney, Inc., P. O. Box No. 591, Syracuse, New York.

The use of this service by this office results in a substantial savings in the bookbinding account and provides for the prompt availability of the records for the use of the public. At the present time I believe this is the only firm furnishing this service.

This company has submitted an informal quotation of 40 cents per sheet including binding of each 375 sheets on an estimated use of 31,875 sheets.

Therefore for the foregoing reasons I respectfully request your authorization to dispense with publicly advertising and to engage the services of Hall & McChesney, Inc., P. O. Box 591, Syracuse, New York, by contract in the total sum not to exceed twelve thousand seven hundred fifty (12,750) dollars to furnish the "Electro Duplex Recording System" and "Looseleaf Bookbinding Service" as requested during this contract period of April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive, at the price of 40 cents per sheet.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH D. COUGHLIN,
Register of Deeds.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, MARCH 30, 1970

NO. 13

Local Development Policy Announced

Mayor Kevin White, revealing that 16,000 manufacturing jobs left the city during the decade of the sixties, announced a three-pronged "local development policy" aimed at upgrading the income of Boston residents.

"We will pursue this policy aggressively because we believe that increasing the incomes of our residents will lead to a decline in the demand for subsidized housing, welfare assistance, health care, and special educational services," the Mayor said.

Addressing a joint meeting of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Boston Real Estate Board, Mayor White said the key to raising income levels is creation of stable, high paying jobs, which are best provided by the manufacturing sector. The city's new Economic Development and Industrial Commission (EDIC), which recently completed a comprehensive evaluation of Boston's economic problems, will be the agency responsible for implementing the policy, he said.

Since 1968, Boston's total employment has increased by 10,000 jobs. The sectors of the economy which have shown the sharpest gains are services, finance, insurance, and real estate.

The first task of EDIC will be to institute a "retention and recruitment program," aimed at significantly improving the Boston business climate in the shortest possible time, the Mayor said.

"Solving the space problems of industry is the key to retention and recruitment," he explained. "Other action may take on the appearance of solutions. But only by making space available at a competitive price will we be able to maintain and expand the number of jobs in the manufacturing sector."

Creation of a one-stop business service within EDIC will be the second step toward implementing the new development policy. Staffed by two or three people, this service will expedite assistance to every firm requesting immediate action in transactions with city departments and agencies.

"It is my hope that this service will eliminate the bureaucratic delays that are so costly to business," Mayor White said.

The third step will have EDIC function as the city's economic advisory unit and, as such, will be responsible for:

Continually assessing the impact of public programs on the city's economy;

Submitting annual reports to the Mayor on the state of Boston's economy; and,

Continuing evaluation of Boston's economic and development policies and programs.

In its survey of the Boston business community, EDIC interviewed 309 firms and concluded that the five most important reasons for leaving Boston for suburban locations were, in order of importance:

Lack of expansion space;
Cost of present space too high;
Consolidation not possible in Boston;

Seek better proximity to skilled labor; and,

Require one-story layout.

Taxes and public project displacement are cited by less than a handful of firms, EDIC said. The Commission's findings were reported by its Chairman, George C. Seybolt, who is also chairman of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Opportunity, in basic dollar and cents terms, must be created for all Boston residents," Mayor White continued. "I am committed to this goal. The city is prepared to make additional investments. The size of that investment will depend, in part, upon the commitment and investment which the private sector is willing to make throughout the city. The extent of the city's investment also will depend upon passage of legislation designed to implement fully the 1966 industrial development amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution."

Marshal equity for industrial development in the form of publicly owned land and, if necessary, cash;

Use, when appropriate, the city's power of eminent domain to make space available for manufacturing and related activities;

Fully utilize the city's power to borrow for the purpose of encouraging industrial development;

Boston Business Facts

Since 1968, Boston's total employment has increased approximately 10,000 new jobs.

The sectors of the economy which have shown the sharpest gains are services, finance, insurance, and real estate. They have grown by 53,700 jobs in the period 1947-1968.

Boston does have declines in the same sectors that most major cities have: retailing and manufacturing. These sectors lost some 63,500 jobs during the 1947-1968 period.

At present, these declining sectors account for almost 50 percent of all employment in the city.

Within the declining sectors, manufacturing accounted for 29 percent of total employment in 1968.

The manufacturing sector generates the highest wages for its size—$7,200 in 1968—as compared to service ($5,700), finance, insurance and real estate ($7,000), and retailing ($6,000).

Though transportation and construction pay more ($7,900 and $9,300, respectively), they are very small sectors of the over-all economy.

One-third of the 309 firms surveyed are now considering the possibility of leaving Boston. Most of these plans and dates are extremely vague and open-ended.

Only one third of all firms thinking of leaving are looking specifically for an industrial park location.

The five most important reasons for leaving Boston, in order of importance, are: lack of expansion space; cost of present space too high; consolidation not possible in Boston; seek better proximity to skilled labor; and, require one-story layout.

There are 46 million square feet of vacant underutilized land within the city that would lend itself to industrial development if it could be made available.

Most of the prime vacant land within present industrially zoned areas is tied up by government agencies, such as the Port Authority, the federal and state governments.

Approximately 2.6 million square feet of industrial floor space which might be suitable for reuse if problems of renovation and conservation can be overcome.

Tiny Tots Program

The highly popular "Tiny Tots" play program of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department now in its second year and held city-wide in the recreation centers, has reached capacity enrollment.

Children, 3 to 5 years of age, participate Monday through Friday from 9.30 A.M. to 11.30 A.M. in a varied program designed to develop physical coordination through learning skills in control of body and perfecting locomotor skills, the use of larger muscles and the extended use of smaller muscles. Also acquiring the art of playing and sharing with other children.

The program was inaugurated in January, 1969, with 7 centers, and by October, 1969, there were 10 in existence with a capacity participation. During the month of June each center will accept registrations for the following season.

The program closes for the summer with a formal graduation and the presentation of diplomas to each child. The cooperation and enthusiasm of the mothers has played a major role in the success of this program.

Policy . . .

Expand the EDIC as an operating city agency with additional staff and responsibilities; and,

Develop a new partnership with the business community to carry out these necessary economic development efforts.

The Mayor said he would give EDIC six weeks in which to develop the organizational tools which will permit the city to deal with the problem of making space available to industry. Among the possibilities is establishment of a development corporation, similar to ones utilized by other major cities, he added.

"However, I will not wait for these proposals before beginning an intensive effort to retain and recruit industry," Mayor White said.

He explained that EDIC would begin immediately to identify qualified manufacturing firms and work closely with them in an effort to find the space they need to operate efficiently in Boston. And the Boston Redevelopment Authority will serve as the agency responsible for the acquisition of land in those situations where the private real estate community is unable to assemble industrial tracts, Mayor White added.

According to the EDIC survey there are approximately 46 million square feet of vacant underutilized land within the city that would lend itself to industrial development if it could be made available. Most of this prime vacant land within present industrially zoned areas is tied up by government agencies, such as the Massachusetts Port Authority, federal government, and the state.

Senior Coordinator Helen C. Dunn coordinates and supervises the program throughout the city, aided by female staff members in each center.

Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis and Recreation Director Wayne R. Embry are now formulating plans to improve and expand the "Tiny Tots" program.

$19,000 for BCOA

Mayor Kevin White announced that the city will offer $19,000 in financial support to the economically ailing Boston Center of Older Americans (BCOA), a multi-service center for the 5,000 senior citizens in the Back Bay.

The BCOA provides housing relocation services, personal counseling, informal education, arts and crafts workshops, and trips for the seniors.

"The BCOA provides an invaluable service to senior citizens," Mayor White said. "Boston needs many more like it for its 120,000 seniors throughout the city. I only wish we had them, but we certainly cannot afford to lose the ones we have."

The BCOA was founded three years ago under a federal grant. It also received funding from the BRA for providing senior citizen relocation service in the Back Bay.

"The federal funding expired last year," Mayor White explained, "and by federal guidelines, BRA relocation service contracts cannot be the sole support of an agency. The $19,000 in assistance I propose will allow the BRA to continue its funding."

Mayor White, speaking at a gathering of 300 seniors at St. Ann's Parish in the Back Bay, said that he would:

Ask the City Council to change the Council on Aging to a Commission on Senior Affairs in order to give senior citizens' problems more visibility in city government and equal status with other departments. Among its work the commission will develop a monthly newsletter to keep senior citizens abreast of activities and services of which they can take advantage.

Form an interdepartmental committee on senior citizen affairs to further coordinate the work other city departments are already doing for senior citizens. The committee will work with such departments as the BRA, the BHA, Health and Hospitals, Parks and Recreation, and the Little City Halls.

Ask the School Committee to expand the senior citizen hot lunch program to 15 schools in eight neighborhoods of the city.

Hold a massive conference of seniors in May at which time he will ask senior citizens to evaluate what the city has done and to suggest additional programs.

"One out of every five Boston residents is 60 or older," Mayor White said. "Yet, our seniors never had an organized voice in city government until the creation of the Council on Aging a little over a year ago."

"Senior citizens have heard enough talk. It is time for some concrete programs of action. The Council has worked hard to obtain reduced fares on the MBTA, and with the School Department to serve hot lunches to seniors. It has also arranged for discount meals at Hayes Bickford's and reduced ticket prices at Sack Theatres, but such programs are not enough. The federal government must realize that the seniors' incomes must be increased and that the social security system must be reevaluated," Mayor White said.

Plastic Bag Demonstration

Some 2,200 families in the Model Neighborhood are taking part in a Model City demonstration to determine whether plastic bags are more efficient and cleaner for garbage disposal than trash cans.

The families each were given 50 plastic bags which they are requested to use over a ten-week period, beginning this week.

"The purpose of the test is to measure the efficiency of this type of disposal, for both the residents and the Department of Public Works," said Paul Parks, Administrator of Boston's Model City Program.

If the bags prove measurably more effective, he added, the Model City staff will work on getting the bags used city-wide.

The Department of Public Works is also conducting a similar test later this month in four other areas of Boston. Several cities in the nation have conducted the demonstration with plastic bags, some of them converting to the regular use of the bags.

After the test, the participants will fill out questionnaires on the usefulness of the bags and a time study of garbage collection with the bags and without them will be made.

Most of the families in the Model City demonstration live in Model Neighborhood subarea five, the rest in subarea six. The boundaries of the demonstration are Quincy street, Blue Hill avenue, Washington street, Dorchester, and the railroad tracks.

The project, developed by the Model Neighborhood Board and the Model City Administration, is financed through moneys from the Interim Assistance Program of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The bags are being supplied by the American Cellophane and Plastic Films Corporation, 19 Bartlett square, Jamaica Plain, which is in the Model City area.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT Purchasing Division COPYING MACHINES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Authority is requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to Dennison Manufacturing Company, Copier Division, for the continuation of the rental of copying machines located throughout the City Hall for the period from April 1, 1969, to March 31, 1970, inclusive.

This request is made based on the award of the original contract which resulted from a survey that had been conducted and also the fact that this company offers the greatest cost advantage to the city.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $33,000, net.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

COMPOSING SYSTEM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Authority is requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to International Business Machines Corporation, 900 Prudential Center, Boston, for the installation and rental of a Composing System for the Printing Section, through March 31, 1970.

Since this company is the only one that can supply this Composing System, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for bids.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $10,000, net.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

GASOLINE, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing gasoline and Diesel fuel, Proposal 004, to the various city departments from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive, was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, bids received were publicly opened and read in this office on January 23, 1970.

The bid of Mobil Oil Corporation was irregular in that the copy submitted to the Auditing Department was unsigned. Authority is therefore requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract without public advertisement, to Mobil Oil Corporation who was the only bidder on Items 1 and 2. Prices will be as indicated on the accompanying tabulation.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $397,872, net, 30 days.

Authority is requested to award a contract for Item 3 to James Devaney Fuel Company, Inc., who was the only bidder. Price will be as indicated on tabulation attached.

Approximate total amount of contract will be $51,000, less 2 percent, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1970

NO. 14

Police Training Begins for "Turn Off" Drug Program

Mayor Kevin White welcomed more than 100 police officers from throughout New England at 10 A.M., on Monday, March 30, when the City of Boston and the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs began a training school on drug abuse.

The school, which runs from March 30 until April 10, will be conducted in the Boston Police Academy on the top floor of Station 4. The officers will be taught drug identification, undercover operations, surveillance, medical effects of different drugs, correct procedures to follow during court testimony and similar subjects.

The Bureau of Narcotics agreed to conduct the course at the request of Mayor White and Police Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara.

"Law enforcement has an important role to play in fighting drug abuse, and Boston's 'Turn Off' program is well aware of this," Mayor White said. "Since Boston began its own Narcotics Control Unit in the Police Department on February 11, we have arrested more than 400 drug pushers, and the number is climbing.

"The important thing to remember is that in addition to cracking down on pushers, we must pursue a vigorous education program in the schools to prevent addiction, and a comprehensive treatment plan for curing young addicts."

Archery Classes

Free archery instructions have been added to the Boston Parks and Recreation indoor sports program, and will be held at the Roslindale Recreation Center at 6 Cummins Highway in Roslindale.

Boys and girls, between 13 and 18 years of age, may register Monday through Friday, during the week of April 10, between 2 P.M. and 8 P.M., at the above site. Classes will begin at 3 P.M. on April 13 and will continue through the summer months.

All classes will be under the direction and supervision of Miss Colette S. Paquette, nationally recognized archery specialist, who is now a member of the Boston Parks and Recreation staff.

Special Control Center

Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department has announced the establishment of a special control center for the handling of complaints and requests for service at all ballfields, playgrounds, and sports areas in Boston. He has designated Gene Ferris, a career Parks maintenance man, as the central control officer in the department office. The new procedure will assure the maximum number of repairs and improvements to fields, benches, grandstands, and buildings during the limited spring period. It will mean that Little Leagues, Babe Ruth

Banning High Sulfur Fuels

Mayor White said Boston will be unable to enforce its regulation banning high sulfur fuels unless the state follows the city's lead and imposes a similar ban throughout the metropolitan region.

Logistical problems of supply and demand, the Mayor said, require that the petroleum industry and their customers both be given time to prepare for the low sulfur regulations before the next heating season begins in October.

The industry will have to segregate low sulfur fuels from high sulfur fuels, and this will require building additional storage facilities in the Boston area. These plans have been delayed because industry cannot determine whether low sulfur fuels will be required for Boston only or whether a much larger quantity will be needed for the entire metropolitan region.

"Only a quick decision by the state will settle this matter," Mayor White declared. "The state must decide to follow Boston's lead and implement this regulation on a regional basis or to take no action at all. But if the storage facilities are to be provided, that decision must be made now, and there is no reason why it can't be made.

"Boston is trying to clear its air by banning high sulfur fuels, by eventually banning heavy residual fuels and by preventing pollution through incineration and burning of coal. But these steps require state cooperation or they will fail."

Plans for Hospital-Supported System

Mayor Kevin White will meet with Boston hospital directors to announce plans for a city-wide, hospital-supported system for the delivery of primary health care.

The city has received commitments from six major hospitals to take responsibility for the development of a primary care program for a defined geographical area, the Mayor revealed.

"A guiding principle of the program is that every individual will continue to receive care wherever he prefers," Mayor White said. "He will know, however, that there is a hospital which has accepted an obligation to serve him close to his home."

Under the program, each hospital will provide primary health services for those people in the geographic area of the hospital who choose to use it as an entry into its medical care system, and from there on provide or arrange for any level of care that may be indicated.

"This system is not binding on any patient," the Mayor explained. "People are free to make any arrangements they wish. But for those who have not made some arrangement on their own, this program would give assurance that they will be cared for."

Establishment of Housing Court

Mayor Kevin White urged the City Council's Home Rule Committee to recommend to the state Legislature the establishment of a housing court for Boston. Housing violations are presently tried in District Court.

"It is time Boston was given adequate means for cracking down on negligent landlords," Mayor White said. "The present system is extremely inadequate and unfair. Tenants may have to live under unsanitary and unsafe conditions for months until their case finally comes before the court."

A home rule petition must be filed with the state Legislature before they can act on a bill, now pending, which calls for the creation of a housing court in Boston. The bill, supported by Mayor White, was filed by the Citizens Housing and Planning Association.

Several other cities, including Baltimore, Atlanta, Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York, have already established similar housing courts.

Mayor White also pointed out that:

1. The criminal record associated with District Court fines discourages judges from finding against landlords, a housing court would put such violations under civil law.

2. District Court does not have the power to force landlords to make necessary repairs. It can only fine them for failing to comply.

3. A housing court would be at the Superior Court level so there would be very few appeals.

"Out of 700 cases presented by the city's Housing Inspection Department last year," the Mayor said, "only 40 landlords were fined and only 25 actually paid. The other fines were set aside by Superior Court."

VETERANS' RETIREMENTS

The Boston Retirement Board has approved the following veterans' applications for retirement:

Paul Joseph Oswald, 7 Corey terrace, West Roxbury, chairman, Assessing Department.
James Francis Breen, Jr., 78 Codman road, Norwood, patrolman, District 5, Police Department.

Control Center . . .

Leagues, and other major sports programs in Boston will receive the highest priority in field improvements. Unlike other years, this new "central control center" will enable the department to digest the hundreds of letters, complaints, and requests submitted every spring. Normally, these requests are handled by several individuals, and many are misplaced or lost. It is expected now that few requests will go unfilled.

The general public is urged to channel all communications in writing to Mr. Ferris. Phone calls are of no value. His tasks will include: (1) Setting up a master chart inventory that lists every field and playground under Parks responsibility. (2) Personally visiting and studying every field and playground for an up-to-date report on conditions. (3) Receiving and acknowledging all letters from groups and individuals, and giving specific commitments wherever possible.

The Commissioner has encouraged the sports and recreation public of Boston to contact Mr. Ferris. He pointed out that without the cooperation and interest of the people of Boston, the Parks and Recreation Department will be unable to move swiftly enough to deal with the hundreds of maintenance problems it faces.

This procedure will be improved each year so that in about three years, the department will have brought all of its athletic facilities up to first-class condition for the heavy spring program.

All communications should be addressed to: Mr. Gene Ferris, Department of Parks and Recreation, Room 802, One City Hall Square, Boston, Massachusetts 02201.

Jamaicaway Groups Kick Off Spring Cleanups

More than 700 Boy Scouts and members of various Jamaicaway community groups armed with rakes, hoes, shovels, and spirit will head for Olmstead Park to clean up. This will be the first in the series of five spring cleanups sponsored by Boston's Department of Parks and Recreation.

"These cleanups mark the kickoff of a cleaner Boston campaign which I hope will encourage other community groups to sponsor similar cleanups throughout the year," Mayor White said. "The parks and playgrounds are the natural resources of Boston. The city is undertaking these cleanups with the aid of community groups and students—but it is up to all Bostonians to help keep our parks and city clean."

Cleanups, scheduled to run from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M., will involve numerous community groups along the Jamaicaway.

"Volunteers from the Arboretum District Boy Scouts, Mary Curley School, Rogerson House, Little Wanderers, and the Children's Museum will participate," Parks Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis stated. In addition to supplying the largest work force, the Boy Scouts will plant flowering trees in the park area. In case of rain the cleanup will be held on Sunday.

One thousand college students from more than twenty-one colleges and universities participated in a cleanup of Franklin Park on April 11. A free concert featuring the "Last Train Home" and the "Fort Mudge Memorial Dump" will conclude the day of cleaning, painting, and planting at 3.30.

The college student cleanup, dubbed the "New Leaf," has been organized by the Boston Collegiate Council with the cooperation of the Parks Department. John Loftus, cochairman of the Council, explained, "this cleanup is the first attempt to organize all the area colleges to work for the benefit of the community."

On April 18, smaller-scale neighborhood cleanups will be conducted in the 15 districts designated by the Parks Department for cleanup activities. "We would like to have a task force of volunteers in every city playground," Mayor White said. "I have been heartened by the enthusiasm displayed by various groups toward these projects."

A double cleanup program, concentrating on open lots around the city and Fenway Park is slated for May 2.

Junior high and high school students will participate in the South End cleanup which will also include the planting of vegetable gardens. In addition, volunteer landscape architects will supervise shrub planting. The Model Cities in Roxbury will undertake a backyard and vacant lot cleanup campaign while the East Boston junior high students plan to repaint the playgrounds.

At the same time, college students, primarily from MIT, and garden club members will plant and clean in Fenway Park. Plans for a post cleanup street dance are being discussed by the Boston Collegiate Council.

For further information on the cleanups contact the Department of Parks and Recreation at 722-4100, Ext. 145, or the Boston Collegiate Council at 364-1499 or 648-9382.

"Turn Off" Drug Center

Mayor Kevin White announced the selection of an architect for a "Turn Off" drug detoxification center and day hospital facility scheduled to open at the Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital in June. "Turn Off" is the Mayor's multifaceted anti-drug abuse program.

Boston Architect Maurice J. Kennedy will redesign the interior of the "E" building at the Mattapan facility which will house the center.

The center will be operated by the in-patient psychiatry service of Boston City Hospital, located on the Mattapan grounds. It will provide ten beds for medically supervised withdrawal, a day hospital program of group therapy, occupational counseling, and individual psychotherapy.

Included in the $100,000 remodeling will be the renovation of patient rooms and the replacement of the heating, plumbing, and lighting systems.

Hot Lunch Program

Mayor Kevin White urged support for his proposed expansion of the senior citizen hot lunch program to eleven additional locations.

The program provides nutritious meals in public schools to low-income senior citizens for the special price of 50 cents per meal.

Boston's program has been operating in four schools for the past several months—the Gavin in South Boston, Taft in Allston, Thompson in Dorchester, and Girls' Trade in the Fenway.

The existing program cannot reach all of those among the city's nearly 120,000 senior citizens who need it, the Mayor said. Many are forced to travel long distances to take advantage of the program, he noted.

In a letter, March 20, to Joseph Lee, School Committee Chairman, the Mayor proposed expansion of the program to the following schools: Garfield in Brighton; Edwards in Charlestown; Barnes, McKay, and East Boston High in East Boston; Woodrow Wilson and Girls' Latin in Dorchester; Burke, Timilty, and Boston Trade in Roxbury; and R. G. Shaw in West Roxbury.

The proposed expansion is to be acted on by the School Committee.

Adult Education Program

The Model City Adult Education Program for all Model Neighborhood residents will open Wednesday, April 15, Paul Parks, Administrator of the Model City Program, announced.

The program which is being conducted by the New Urban League of Boston will offer courses for high school equivalency, English classes for the Spanish-speaking, and a specially developed course about "life problems" such as consumer education, landlord-tenant relations, credit, etc.

Administrator Parks urged all Model City residents interested in the program to register as soon as possible at the Urban League offices, 100 Warren street, Roxbury, Phone 445-9450, or the Urban League Employment Office, 559 Dudley street. Late registration will be accepted.

Classes will be held for a 12-week period from 7 P.M. to 9.30 P.M. on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, or at times convenient for the trainees. The first session of classes will be held at the Urban League offices on Warren street although later classes will be offered at three different locations to provide easy accessibility to residents. There will be no charges at any time. Director is Mr. Bill Thomas.

The high school equivalency course is aimed at preparing adult residents to take the state high school equivalency examination. The required areas of concentration will be English, Math, Social Studies, and Science.

The course for the Spanish-speaking will stress reading, writing, and speaking English.

The section for community-oriented subjects is being offered to help residents with problems. Some of the subjects covered will be how to plan and maintain a budget, how to apply for credit, basic office and shop protocol, understanding landlord and tenant obligations, community security, and self-identification.

The adult education program is just one of several of the educational programs in Boston's Model City Program. Other projects include the Higher Education Program which offers college credits in a community setting, the Educational Counseling Service which provides information for those wishing to enter college and a school-community communications program aimed at informing residents about the Model Neighborhood schools.

The adult education program is funded by a grant from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under its Demonstration Cities Act of 1966.

Persons with questions should call the Urban League, 445-9450, for further information.

Senior Aide Program

Mayor Kevin White announced a pilot program designed to find employment for senior citizens with area business and industry. The city will develop employment opportunities for seniors and provide placement assistance at Little City Halls and Neighborhood Employment Center (NEC) in Boston beginning April 13. The "Senior Citizen Placement Service" was organized by the Mayor's Council on Aging in cooperation with Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. (ABCD) and the state Division of Employment Security (DES).

"It is essential to convince private employers of the capabilities of our senior citizens so that they can supplement inadequate Social Security benefits through meaningful employment of their talents," Mayor White said.

"Nationally 30 percent of all Americans 65 or older are living in poverty," the Mayor said. "In Boston, 25 percent of our seniors have an income of less than $2,000 a year.

"We employ seniors at City Hall under our Senior Aide Program and these older Bostonians have rendered invaluable service to the city departments. They have proven beyond a doubt that merely because someone is over 60 does not mean he is too old to contribute meaningfully to society."

Under the Senior Citizen Placement Service, a job developer, on loan from ABCD, working out of the Mayor's Council on Aging Office, will visit area business and industrial firms, encouraging them to hire seniors. The positions found will be filed with the Little City Halls and NEC's as well as the Little House and YMHA Hecht House in Dorchester and the Boston Center for Older Americans in Back Bay.

"We know there is a great demand for employment by Boston's senior citizens," Mayor White said. "We receive at least five applications for every one opening we have in our Senior Aide Program at City Hall."

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

As Mayor of the City of Waltham I extend to you the grateful appreciation of the citizens of our city for the splendid cooperation of your Fire Department in assisting at the general alarm fire on Rumford avenue on March 18, 1970.

I was tremendously impressed by the team work of the firefighters from all cities who responded. Being at the scene personally for many hours I had ample opportunity to observe them. Without their help that whole section of our city would have been lost.

Many thanks for a job well done.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR J. CLARK,
Mayor.

Remodeling of L Street Bathhouse to Begin

Double sessions will be averted in at least two South Boston schools next fall because of a unique remodeling plan endorsed by Mayor Kevin White that will provide classrooms and recreation facilities for 500 students at the L Street Bathhouse.

Half of the cavernous, 40-year-old structure is unused now and installing classrooms to relieve overcrowding at South Boston High School and the Gavin Junior High School is only part of the city's plan to render the facility more serviceable.

Since most of the 60,000 square feet is unused in the bathhouse, extensive recreation facilities will be added for use both by students and by neighborhood residents.

Residents will have full use of a new gymnasium, an arts and crafts center, community meeting rooms, handball and basketball courts and a picnic area, all to be newly installed in the bathhouse. Existing shower and locker facilities and solariums for men and women also will be refurbished.

Mayor White, announcing his approval of the remodeling during an on-site inspection, said the renovation will cost $500,000 and will be completed in time for school opening in September. The plan has been jointly conceived and approved by Public Facilities Director Robert T. Kenney and Parks Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis, and will be offered to the three-man Parks and Recreation Commission for its approval.

"Imaginative reuse of this old bathhouse is remarkable in several ways," Mayor White declared. "It will provide two critical needs in Southie: extra classrooms to prevent overcrowding in the schools, and modern recreational facilities both for adults and teen-agers.

"There are several ways in which classrooms, portable furniture and various sporting facilities can be arranged in this massive building and before making a final layout we shall discuss them in detail with the home and school associations and with citizens groups in South Boston," the Mayor said.

The Mayor said the idea of converting the bathhouse was conceived during the past few weeks. Previously, the city had considered acquiring a part of the South Boston Army Base to provide extra classrooms but this idea had to be rejected because the military facility was not available.

The Gavin School, with 1,215 students, is already 160 beyond capacity with a larger enrollment expected next fall, and the South Boston High School is expected to have an enrollment of 2,200 in September — or about 400 beyond capacity. Overcrowding at both schools would have meant double sessions for 500 students.

"The bathhouse is ideally suited for this multiple purpose," Mayor White said. "Half of it is not used at all, the other half is used only by 150 to 200 persons per week and maintenance costs the city more than $300,000 annually.

"Consequently the building is largely in disrepair. For a total of $500,000 we can put the full facility to meaningful use and make it attractive to the entire community."

Classrooms will have portable furniture and flexible walls for easy removal so that they could be used for teen dances or community rooms during weekends. During the summer, the entire bathhouse, newly renovated, would be available to area residents.

The bathhouse was built in 1931 on a site that has been used by the L Street Brownies since the turn of the century.

Mayor Presents Diplomas to Police Officers

Mayor Kevin White presented diplomas to 100 police officers from throughout New England upon their completion of a two-week course on drug abuse.

The training was conducted by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in cooperation with the City of Boston. Instruction included drug identification, undercover operations, surveillance and medical effects of different drugs.

The Mayor told the graduates that he pledged the full resources of the City of Boston to combat the drug epidemic. "Today, the graduates of this class will begin to use their knowledge and apply their efforts to cope with this problem.

Fight Against Air Pollution Started

Mayor Kevin H. White has urged the State Public Health Council to follow the city's lead in the fight against air pollution.

In a letter mailed to Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, State Health Commissioner, Mayor White urged the state to ban the consumption of high sulfur fuel within the entire Metropolitan Boston Air Pollution Control District.

The city already has banned the consumption of high sulfur fuel in its public buildings and has announced that it will extend the ban to all commercial and industrial buildings in Boston as of October, 1970.

The text of the Mayor's letter follows:

"As I am sure you realize, the City of Boston has banned the consumption of high sulfur fuel after October, 1970.

I understand that the Public Health Council will meet within the next few weeks to consider the adoption of air pollution control regulations for the Metropolitan Boston Air Pollution Control District.

I also understand that action may be delayed because of problems with some of the proposed regulations. Therefore, I urge you to consider the matter of low sulfur fuel as a separate regulation and to take prompt action to ban the consumption of high sulfur fuel within the Metropolitan Boston Air Pollution Control District.

The failure of your department to act to date has caused considerable confusion in the fuel oil distribution industry. Because of the confusion, distributors have not taken the action necessary to assure that there will be an adequate supply of low sulfur fuel to meet the demands of Boston's industrial and commercial consumers.

Only your department can clear up this confusion. It can do so by adopting a regulation banning the consumption of high sulfur fuel. I urge this be done, so that distributors can begin now to plan for the winter months.

I am sure that you will agree that we should act promptly to eliminate air pollution in the metropolitan area. Boston is leading the way by burning low sulfur fuel in all city buildings and by requiring that low sulfur fuel be used by all commercial and industrial consumers. I urge you to follow our lead."

Mayor's Statement on Defeat of Judge Carswell

Following is a statement by Mayor Kevin White regarding the defeat of Judge Harrold Carswell:

The defeat of Judge Harrold Carswell is a justifiable and fully commendable action on the part of the United States Senate. I believe, as I stated earlier, that Judge Carswell was not suited for the Supreme Court in view of his expressed racial views and his judicial record on the bench.

Supreme Court judges should be men of great learning, of rigid objectivity, and courageous independence. It is to be hoped that President Nixon's third nominee for this seat will measure up to this standard.

The senators who rejected the nomination, particularly Senators Brooke and Kennedy of Massachusetts, have performed a great service.

Drug Information Center

A drug information center, part of Boston's "Turn Off" program to fight drug abuse, will go into operation at Boston City Hospital's Psychiatric Unit.

Mayor White announced that drug users, parents, social workers or youth workers can call the center and receive advice on how to treat persons suffering from an overdose of drugs. The center will know the effect of each drug and the best treatment methods and the nearest drug treatment center.

Calls will be received at 261-2600 from any Massachusetts citizen. Callers need not identify themselves so all calls will remain anonymous.

Mayor White said "Turn Off" also will supply a laboratory soon which will anonymously identify drugs sent in by parents or addicts. Persons seeking information will deliver the drug samples to a central location, be issued a number, and will be told by telephone three days later of the nature of the drug and its effects.

This facet of "Turn Off" will be called "Analysis Anonymous."

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1970

NO. 17

Freedom From Pollution Trail

Mayor Kevin H. White announced that the city observed Ecology Action Day (April 22) by creating a "Freedom From Pollution Trail" from Kenmore square to City Hall Plaza in downtown Boston.

The Mayor urged persons who normally drive into the city to leave their cars at home on that day to cut down on air pollution. He urged commuters to use mass transportation or any form of transportation other than automobiles.

The "Freedom From Pollution Trail" stretched along Commonwealth avenue from Kenmore square to Arlington street, through the Public Garden and Boston Common, along Tremont street from Park street to Court square, and along Cambridge street from Court street to New Sudbury street.

Those streets were closed to automobile traffic from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. on April 22.

Numerous conservation groups and student groups concerned about the environment had displays and informational booths at City Hall Plaza from noon to 3 P.M. In a lighter vein, there were games and chalk boards for children and groups picnicking on the Plaza.

There was a bicycle parade beginning at Kenmore square and ending at City Hall Plaza about noon.

At 3 P.M. a coalition of student groups sponsored a parade from Park street to Government Center. There was a speaking program at 4 P.M.

Mayor White said, "We are creating the 'Freedom From Pollution Trail' to emphasize the danger of air pollution from automobiles. The automobile is the major polluter of our urban environment. Scientists believe that about 65 percent of the pollution in our air is caused by the internal combustion engine.

"That percentage may even be higher in cities because of the concentration of automobiles moving at low speeds. I don't think I have to belabor the fact that pollution from the automobile is injurious to human health.

"So I am asking as many people as possible not to drive into Boston on April 22. Use any other form of transportation. The urban volunteers will have questionnaires available at City Hall Plaza to determine what, if any, trouble people had in using mass transportation. We will compile that information and make it available.

"Thousands of commuters drive in alone by car every morning which consumes space and needlessly adds to air pollution. Most people never have considered a car pool or mass transportation.

"This plan to reroute traffic, in addition to dramatizing the problem, may also encourage the ecology-conscious commuter to experiment with different modes of transportation. If the commuter gets to liking the MBTA, or the bus, or even a car pool, he will have made a meaningful contribution to the war against air pollution.

"There is little that the city can do by itself to cut down air pollution from automobiles. But we can dramatize the problem and call public attention to it."

Some of the organizations that took part in the Ecology Fair at City Hall Plaza were: Massachusetts Audubon Society; Massachusetts Forest and Parks Association; Institute of Contemporary Art; ACTION '70; Union of Concerned Scientists; Boston Parks and Recreation Department; Boston Air Pollution Control Commission; the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration; and ecology action groups from colleges and universities in the greater Boston area.

Mayor Kevin White joined the city's observance of Earth Day (April 22) at 12.30 P.M. at City Hall Plaza.

The Mayor had his lunch on the Plaza and greeted Pat Paulson of television fame, who reran the route of the Boston Marathon as a personal Earth Day observance.

Paulson continued running from the Prudential Center to City Hall Plaza to meet the Mayor. He ran two miles longer than the runners did in the Marathon Monday.

Parks Department Cleanup

Boston's 100 playgrounds got a thorough cleaning on Saturday, April 11, when 10,000 neighborhood youngsters lent a hand to city employees in the third in a series of five cleanups sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Mayor Kevin White visited several cleanup projects to lend his support and give personal thanks to the youths. He and Parks Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis were at Healy Playground, Washington street, in Roslindale square at 10 A.M. and at Billings Field, La Grange street in West Roxbury at 11.15 A.M.

The cleanups began at 9 A.M. Boy Scouts, members of Little League, Babe Ruth League, the Catholic Youth Organization and civic and community groups participated. Litter and underbrush were removed and playing fields were repaired and raked. Besides personnel, the Parks and Recreation Department supplied equipment and machinery for the cleanup.

"Keeping our city clean is a year-round job," Mayor White said. "Last Wednesday the country observed Ecology Action Day by holding symbolic events to stress the necessity of concern with our environment. That is an important gesture, but even more important are cleanups like these where steps are actually taken to improve the condition of our city. What makes these cleanups productive is that adults, youngsters and city government are joining hands to make Boston a better place in which to live."

Two weeks ago in the second Parks Department cleanup, more than 1,200 students from 25 colleges and universities turned out at Franklin Park. On April 4, 800 Boy Scouts worked with city employees cleaning Olmstead Park.

"The young people of Boston are doing a wonderful job. They are undaunted in their enthusiasm and in their concern with their environment," Mayor White said.

The Parks Department expects 2,000 college students to participate in a cleanup of Back Bay and Fens area, May 20. A block dance will be held that evening.

"Parks Department cleanups are only one aspect of the city's spring cleanup campaign," Mayor White said. "Similar undertakings are planned by other departments."

A city-wide cleanup in May, sponsored by the Public Works Department and the Office of Public Service, was announced last week. Each weekend beginning May 2, the city will provide 133 dumpster boxes at street locations designated by Little City Hall managers. Workers will clean vacant lots and alleys, remove abandoned autos and clean streets.

Refuse collection contractors will remove accumulations of household trash during the month.

Pollution . . .

The Plaza was "returned to the people" from noon to 5 P.M. A number of groups concerned about environmental problems had displays and distributed information at the Plaza during the day.

The city also has created a four-mile long "Freedom From Pollution Trail" from Kenmore square to the Plaza. The trail runs along Commonwealth avenue to the Public Garden, through the Garden and the Common, along Tremont street from Park street to Court square and along Cambridge street to New Sudbury street. Those streets were closed to automobile traffic from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M.

The Mayor's schedule included a 9 A.M. breakfast speech at Bristol Community College in Fall River, a speech at Boston University at 11 A.M., lunch at the Plaza at noon, and a speech at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Public Health Association in Wakefield at 1.30 P.M.

The observance at City Hall Plaza began at noon with music by the Mark Harvey Band from Boston University. The Art Dragon Trio—banjo, trombone and tuba—entertained throughout the afternoon. Tim Hollier, a British recording artist, performed original songs and the Proposition, an improvisational theater group from Cambridge, performed at 1 P.M.

Mayor White's personal car, which has been converted to clean-burning natural gas, was on display at the Plaza.

Summer Street Bridge

Mayor Kevin White announced that the Penn Central Railroad advertised for bids on April 17 for repairs to the Summer Street Bridge, which was destroyed by fire two years ago.

Bids were opened one week later for the repair project, which is expected to cost about $800,000. Public Works Commissioner Joseph Casazza said work could begin in about a month. In an effort to resolve legal problems and get the project under way, the city has agreed to pay 50 percent of the repair costs, the Mayor said.

The 70-year-old, 700-foot bridge, between A and C streets in South Boston, was destroyed May 14, 1968, by a five-alarm fire. Since then, motorists have been forced to use the Northern Avenue Bridge or Broadway to make their way in town over the Congress Street Bridge.

Cleanup Program

Mayor Kevin White announced that a major segment of downtown Boston will be closed to traffic Sunday, May 24, as part of the city's massive, month-long spring cleanup program.

Traffic will be prohibited from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M. in the area bounded by Arlington, Boylston, Essex, Federal, Congress, State, Court, Tremont, Park, and Beacon streets. This will permit cleanup crews to proceed without interference from moving or parked vehicles, the Mayor said.

The program will be carried into every neighborhood of the city on weekends beginning Saturday, May 2, and concluding Sunday, May 31.

Activities in the downtown section will focus on street resurfacing and cleaning, painting of lines, traffic signal poles, hydrants and litter baskets and replacement of traffic signs. In addition, Boston Common will get a face-lifting with a general cleanup, planting of shrubs and flowers, and painting of the frog pond.

For the neighborhood cleanup, the city will provide 133 dumpster boxes at street locations designated by the Little City Hall managers, clean vacant lots and alleys, and remove abandoned autos.

Refuse collection contractors will remove accumulations of household trash during the month regardless of the amount or the manner it is placed outside the dwelling. Residents are being asked to cooperate by not putting out excessive amounts of cellar or attic cleanouts on a single collection day. The contractors are not required to take certain materials such as bricks, stones, earth, demolition material and building construction waste. These materials should be deposited in the dumpsters provided during the weekends.

On the day after the rubbish collection, the even-numbered side of the street will be cleaned from 8 A.M. to 12 noon, and the odd-numbered side from noon to 4 P.M. Police will use a public address system to urge residents to cooperate by removing their cars.

The Department of Parks and Recreation launched its cleanup campaign April 4 at Olmstead Park in Jamaica Plain. Last Saturday, college students took part in a cleanup at Franklin Park.

Municipal Policy

Mayor Kevin White is expected to announce soon a municipal policy under which city employees involved in the death of another person would be relieved of duty immediately pending an investigation.

The action stems from the recent deaths of two men killed last month at Boston City Hospital.

Franklin Lynch, 24, of Roxbury, a black patient, was killed by Patrolman Walter Duggan, 25, who was guarding a prisoner-patient. Also shot was Edward Crowley, 61, of Dorchester. He died 12 days later. Duggan has been reassigned from street patrol to desk duties.

"I share the shock and regret of so many members of the community over the shooting and I am anxiously awaiting the results of the inquest which will determine whether further action is warranted," the Mayor said. "Because of varying regulations within each city department, it is imperative that we have a city-wide policy to deal with municipal employees involved in such incidents pending a full inquiry."

On April 1, the Board of Trustees of City Hospital, acting on instruction from the Mayor, adopted the following policy regarding admission of prisoner-patients.

Critically ill patients in need of intensive care will continue to be assigned to intensive care units. Immediately upon termination of such need, the patient will be transferred to private or semiprivate accommodations as follows:

Surgical Admissions. Each major surgical and thoracic service shall accept all such admissions for a three-month period each year. The patients shall be assigned to a two-bed unit on the specific surgical service set up as a temporary security facility. No nonprisoner patient shall be assigned to these units when they are being used as a security facility.

Medical Admissions. All such admissions to the medical service shall be assigned to a private room available as a security facility on each service.

No patients under guard shall be placed in an open ward on any service.

An investigation into the shooting was undertaken both by the Police Department and the Department of Health and Hospitals. The investigations, however, were halted when an inquest was ordered by the Boston Municipal Court at the request of the Mayor. The inquest was concluded Friday and the judge's report is expected soon.

Free "Kite" Clinic

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the Committee for Better Use of Air will sponsor two Free "Kite" Clinics on Saturday morning, May 2, from 9.30 A.M. to 12.30 P.M.

The "Kite" Clinics will be held city-wide at the fourteen Boston Parks and Recreation Centers and the Maryknoll Center in Chinatown. Materials and guidance will be supplied by staff members to assist the Hub youngsters in making their own kites.

On Saturday, May 9, the colorful "Kite" Festival will be held at Franklin Park, between 1 and 5 P.M., with thousands of children and adults participating in this high-flying event.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Festival Coordinator Fenton Hollander at 491-5110.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division

GUTTER BROOMS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing gutter brooms (throwaway type), Proposal 082, to the Public Works Department from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive, was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, the only bid received was publicly opened and read in this office on March 18, 1970.

The bid submitted by Atlantic Broom Service, Inc., contained a discrepancy in that the Purchasing copy read terms to be 2 percent, time of payment, and the Auditing copy read terms to be net. Subsequently, the company qualified the terms to be 2 percent, time of payment.

Authority is requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Atlantic Broom Service, Inc., the only bidder.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $17,850, less 2 percent discount, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

PERISHABLE FOODS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Authority is requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to the following named company for furnishing perishable foods, etc., to the various city departments from February 23 to March 31, 1970, inclusive:

New England Hotel Supply Company, Inc., 55 Food Mart road, Boston, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On December 29, 1969, your Honor approved a letter to award contracts to several companies for furnishing perishable foods etc., to the various city departments from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive.

Authority is requested at this time to award contracts, without public advertisement, to the following-named companies for furnishing perishable foods etc., for the same period of time as indicated above:

Armour & Co., 301 Southampton street, Boston, Mass.

Commercial Beef, Inc., 124 Newmarket square, Boston, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

EQUIPMENT PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Fire Department for Bliss-Gamewell equipment and parts. R. B. Allen Company, Inc., has submitted informal written quotations.

This company is the only authorized distributor for this equipment in this area. Authority is therefore requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to R. B. Allen, Company.

Total amount of contract not to exceed $9,395, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

RADIOISOTOPE CHEMICALS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Authority is requested to award contracts, without public advertisement, for furnishing radioisotope chemicals to the Boston City Hospital from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive, to the companies indicated below and at the amounts specified:

New England Nuclear Corporation, $40,000, net, 30 days; E. R. Squibb & Sons, Division of Squibb Beach-Nut, Inc., $40,000 net, 30 days; Abbott Laboratories, $10,000, net, 30 days; Cambridge Nuclear Corporation, $3,750, net, 30 days; Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, $3,750, net, 30 days.

Detailed reasons, set forth in the attached copy of request received in this office from the Boston City Hospital substantiate the reasons for requesting the above awards.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record and award a contract to Northeastern University for two ten-week in-service educational programs to run concurrently commencing September 23, 1969, through March 12, 1970, at a cost of $10,000.

The course will be under the supervision of Professor Erwin Spencer of Northeastern Civil Engineering Faculty.

In view of the nature of the services to be rendered it is my view that public advertising will serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

R. R. THUMA, JR.,
Building Commissioner.

FREEDOM TRAIL COMMISSION INFORMATION SERVICE

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Since August 1, 1966, yearly contracts have been executed between this Commission and the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce for furnishing information service at a booth on Boston Common promoting places of historic value in Boston, particularly, all historic places along the Freedom Trail.

In view of the excellent services rendered under previous contracts and the present contract which expires on March 31, and with the ever-increasing number of tourists coming to the City of Boston each year, it is hereby respectfully requested to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisements in the City Record in awarding to the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, 125 High Street, Boston, a contract under which the Chamber shall, at an information booth on Boston Common to be furnished to it for its exclusive use, provide, during the period commencing April 1, 1970, and ending March 31, 1971, both inclusive, continuously between 9 A.M. and 5 P.M. each day other than Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, and continuously between 10 A.M. and 5 P.M. on Saturdays and legal holidays other than Christmas and New Year's Day, and continuously between noon and 5 P.M. on Sundays, an information service promoting places of historic value in Boston, particularly, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, all historic places along the route designated by the Commission under chapter 625 of Acts of 1965; provided, however, that such service need not be provided on any day when bad weather inhibits the use thereof. The contract will provide for the city to pay the Chamber for such information service one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) for each of the months of April to December, 1970, and March, 1971, and five hundred dollars ($500) a month for each of the months of January and February, 1971.

An information service of this kind here involved is obviously a quasi-professional service which does not readily lend itself to inviting proposals by advertisement.

Respectfully,

RICHARD A. BERENSON,
Chairman.

2,000 Housing Units Now Under Way

Mayor Kevin H. White and Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Director John D. Warner announced that current construction of new housing in Boston's renewal areas has reached more than 2,000 units with the beginning of construction of Union Methodist Homes in the South End.

Mayor White said the Union Methodist construction includes 151 units of low and moderate income housing and that more than 1,400 of the 2,000 new housing units are for low and moderate income families.

"Union Methodist Homes will be an important addition to the housing available to South End families," he added. "Reverend Gilbert Caldwell and Reverend William B. McClain of Union Methodist Church and the church and community members who have aided them have shown what a concerned community can accomplish."

"One of Boston's most urgent problems," he said, "is the lack of decent housing — especially for low and moderate income families."

Current renewal housing construction in Boston includes:

Berenson/Carlyle Towers, Waterfront, 624 units, luxury.

Charles NewTown, Charlestown, 262 units, low and moderate income.

ROXSE, South End, 364 units, low and moderate income.

St. Joseph's, Washington Park, 137 units, low and moderate income.

North Harvard Street, Allston-Brighton, 212 units, low and moderate income.

Camfield Gardens, South End, 136 units, low and moderate income.

Egleston Square, Washington Park, 167 units, public housing for the elderly.

Union Methodist, South End, 151 units, low and moderate income.

"We expect at least another 1,000 units to go into construction this year in renewal areas," Mayor White said.

"It is vital to point out," the Mayor added, "that the city's redevelopment authority and groups such as Union Methodist cannot overcome basic deficiencies in our national housing programs."

"Federal housing subsidies remain utterly inadequate. Housing developers have made applications for a total of $132 million in subsidies under the new 236 program that provides below-market interest rate loans. The Nixon Administration's response to this demand has been to ask for a $20 million supplementary budget in 1970 and a $50 million appropriation in fiscal 1971."

"Given this policy of conscious neglect, it is hard to see how the Nixon Administration plans to carry out the goals established in 1968 to construct 26 million houses — six million for poor and moderate income families — over the next ten-year period."

"Secondly, while Federal red tape has been reduced, it remains excessive. Federal housing aid still flows, as former BRA Director Hale

Champion pointed out, 'through devices beyond the fantasies of Rube Goldberg, substantially evaporating in the process before ever reaching an intended beneficiary.'

"Third, Federal Housing Administration officials need more flexibility in statutory limitations in order to make them adaptable to areas such as the South End, where landfill makes construction more expensive than in Phoenix, Arizona."

"Fourth, the state has been slow to meet its housing obligations to the citizens of the Commonwealth — although there are recent indications that this will be reversed in the future."

"I support efforts to remove the $50 million borrowing limitation placed on the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, but there must be legislative guidelines established to ensure that the MHFA's power is utilized not only in suburban communities, but also in the cities."

"The BRA has recommended that there be a legislative guideline that at least 25 percent of the MHFA loans made be located within urban core areas or urban renewal projects."

"The purpose of this is to prevent the MHFA from following its Federal counterpart, the FHA, that, for its first 30 years of existence, made only insured loans for housing built outside the core city."

"There is no one single, simple solution to the housing shortage that now exists in this nation and in Boston. It is an issue that must be faced and challenged and solved."

Ninth Inhalation Therapy Course

The Ninth Annual Inhalation Therapy Course will be held in the Dowling Amphitheater, Boston City Hospital, May 11 through May 15. It will be conducted under the auspices of the Lung Station (Tufts) and the Department of Inhalation Therapy at the Boston City Hospital.

Several hundred medical and paramedical personnel from Inhalation Therapy Departments, Lung Stations, and Intensive Care Units throughout the country will attend.

This year's course will discuss the principles of pulmonary function testing and their role in assessing the management of the patient. The program will include a session relegated to pediatric pulmonary care and inhalation therapy techniques.

Housing . . .

Union Methodist Church Homes, which are located across Columbus Avenue (between West Newton and Dartmouth Streets) from Union Methodist Church, were designed by Henry Boles, Associates.

The $4.2 million, six-story Union Methodist housing development is being financed under a low-interest, mortgage insurance program administered by the Federal Housing Administration, which enables the rents to be kept in the low and moderate income bracket.

Castle Square, Camfield Gardens, and ROXSE, Inc., the other housing developments completed and under way in the 606-acre South End renewal area, were also insured by the FHA.

In order to reduce some of the rents even further, 20-30 percent of the units will be turned over to the Boston Housing Authority's leased housing program whereby tenants' rents are supplemented by Federal funds.

There will be 19 one-bedroom units, 85 two-bedroom units, 28 three-bedroom units, and 19 four-bedroom units.

Maurice S. Segal, M.D., Director, Lung Station (Tufts) and Department of Inhalation Therapy, B.C.H., and Professor of Medicine, Tufts University School of Medicine, is Course Director and L. Jack Faling, M.D., Assistant, Inhalation Therapy, and Instructor-in-Medicine, Tufts, is Assistant Course Director.

An outstanding faculty of 34 experts from New England and New York will conduct the course.

There is an urgent need for training programs to orient hospital personnel in the use of Inhalation Therapy equipment, pulmonary function testing and emergency resuscitation techniques. In many hospitals, personnel operating positive pressure breathing machines, respirators, cardiac defibrillators and the complicated oxygen therapy equipment have little or no formal training in this field.

Open "Frisbee" Competition

Hub Recreation Director Wayne Embry announced that an open "Frisbee" competition cosponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and Radio Station WMEX will be held on the Boston Common on Saturday morning, May 16, starting at 10 A.M. (in case of rain it will be held on the following day, Sunday, May 17).

This event is open to all contestants over fifteen years of age, and individual and team events will be held. Accuracy, fancy catching and distance throwing will be major events in this competition. Prizes will be awarded to winners in all events.

Additional information and registration may be obtained by contacting John T. Landry, Senior Coordinator, Boston Parks and Recreation Department, at Pinebank, Jamaica Plain, 524-6400, or Tim Taylor, Parks and Recreation Department, City Hall, 722-4100—Ext. 138.

Natural Gas for Cars

Mayor Kevin White and Boston Gas Company jointly announced a demonstration project that will convert 10 motor vehicles to pollution-free natural gas—beginning with the Mayor's personal family car.

Mayor White's 1970 Ford Mustang is the first test vehicle in the project and already has been converted to compressed natural gas. Nine additional vehicles will be converted by July to demonstrate the feasibility of using natural gas to power cars used for short-range, in-city driving.

"Cars powered by natural gas eliminate hydrocarbons, lead and carbon monoxide by almost 100 percent, thereby making gigantic contribution to the fight against air pollution," Mayor White declared. "Overall, the pollution from the vehicle will be reduced by 80 percent."

"The purpose of this project is to determine if fleet cars or passenger vehicles used for short-range, in-city driving can be economically converted to fuels that are almost pollution-free, such as liquid or compressed natural gas."

"Boston Gas is to be commended for its willingness to join with the city in this project. What we are beginning here today on City Hall Plaza may be the start of something big—for someday cars used for in-city driving where the pollution is heaviest may be powered by this type of pollution-free fuel."

Mayor White personally unveiled his pollution-free Mustang on City Hall Plaza at noon Tuesday. He was accompanied by J. Thomas Cathcart, executive vice president of Boston Gas and by John Kandle of Quincy, a gas company foreman who supervised the conversion of the Mayor's car.

By July a total of five city and five gas company cars and trucks will have been converted to compressed natural gas and their emissions, driving range, maintenance requirements and cost characteristics will be carefully monitored.

"Once we are assured, after a reasonable testing period, that these vehicles are practical and economical, and that they do indeed significantly reduce automotive air pollution, then the city will begin converting a number of nonemergency municipal vehicles to natural gas," Mayor White said. Police vehicles will not be included in this program.

The Mayor's Mustang was converted to a natural gas system by mechanics at Boston Gas Company. The procedure takes three hours, costs $400 and requires installing tanks containing natural gas either in the trunk or under the vehicle. Adjustments also are made to the carburetor.

The Mayor's Mustang intentionally was converted by the Gas Company to run on dual systems—namely, on compressed natural gas or on conventional gasoline. The reason for the dual system is to allow engineers to monitor the performance characteristics of each fuel by measuring the pollutants in the exhaust.

The pollutants will be measured by a special "Exhaust Analyzer" under development for the past two years at Mountain View, California, by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. Sylvania has loaned the analyzer to the city so that the emissions of the test vehicles can be recorded.

The analyzer is linked to the tailpipe of an automobile and then the engine is started. The analyzer then electronically measures the emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide, and, on the Mayor's car, will measure emissions yielded both by conventional gasoline and by natural gas.

"Use of natural gas as a fuel offers many advantages to the motorist," Mayor White said. "In addition to being almost pollution-free, natural gas adds very little contaminating material to the crankcase oil, cuts down significantly on carbon buildup on cylinder walls, pistons and valves, needs very little maintenance and therefore, enables the car to go on indefinitely without an oil change."

The driving range of a tankful of natural gas depends on two factors: the type of gas used (liquid or compressed) and the size of the tanks.

Mayor White's car, for example, uses compressed gas which is contained in two tanks installed in the trunk, each containing 100 cubic feet. The driving range is about 30 miles.

However, use of liquid natural gas, which will be tested on future vehicles, will be about 100 miles—which is practical for many in-city vehicles. Compressed gas was used on the Mayor's car because it is cheaper and quicker to install.

Compressed natural gas not only virtually eliminates automotive pollution but costs 25 percent less than conventional gasoline.

"Kite" Festival

The 1970 "Kite" Festival, co-sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the Committee for Better Use of Air, will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 9, at Franklin Park, between 1 P.M. and 5 P.M.

This colorful high-flying event will have thousands of youngsters and adults participating for the second year. Judges will select winners of special events and prizes will be awarded.

The final "Kite" Clinic preceding this event will be on Saturday morning, May 2, city-wide, between 9.30 A.M. and 12.30 P.M., at the fourteen Boston Parks Recreation Centers and the Maryknoll Center in Chinatown. Free materials and guidance by staff members will be provided for the youngsters, to make their own kites.

Additional information may be obtained by calling "Kite" Festival Coordinator, Fenton Hollander, at 491-5110.

CIP Program Successful

Mayor Kevin White announced that he will expand to seven additional neighborhoods a unique program that already has permitted 225 Boston residents to paint their homes, acquire aluminum siding or install new plumbing, electrical wiring and heating systems.

The program also will provide new street lighting, improved fire and police alarms, tree plantings and new streets and sidewalks.

"The Community Improvement Program (CIP), in its first six months of operation, has proven very successful in preventing the deterioration of homes in Dorchester and Jamaica Plain," Mayor White said. "The community is solidly behind the program because the residents want to save their homes and their neighborhoods. They have convinced me that this program is popular and worth expanding to other areas."

Somerset Hotel

Mayor Kevin White said he will oppose the proposed purchase by Boston College of the Somerset Hotel in Kenmore square.

The school said it plans to house 700 students, conduct seminars, and base social projects in the hotel.

The Mayor said he would recommend that the Zoning Board of Appeals not grant a conditional use permit to the school for use of the hotel as a dormitory. The city presently realizes $187,000 in property tax revenue from the hotel.

"At a time of extreme strain on the city's principal revenue source, the property tax, that strain is further aggravated by the continuing erosion of the city's tax base," White said. "If the property tax, which accounts for two thirds of all municipal revenues is to remain so prominent a revenue source, then the city must impose reasonable limits upon the disappearance of what can lawfully be taxed."

White said he was concerned that an influx of an additional 700 students into an area with an already high student population would serve to aggravate problems of traffic congestion, parking, and

The CIP, administered by the city's Housing Inspection Department, provides federal nonrepayable grants up to $3,500 and federal 3 percent loans up to $14,500 for improvements on homes that do not meet minimum housing standards. The federal government also finances two thirds the cost of public improvements in the areas involved. The city pays for the remainder.

To qualify for a grant, a home owner must spend more than 25 percent of his income on housing or earn less than $3,000 a year. Loans are available to anyone who owns property in the CIP area regardless of income.

Some $174,000 in nonrepayable grants and $121,000 in loans have been awarded already in Dorchester and Jamaica Plain.

The Mayor said he will submit applications to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for an additional $17 million to expand this program to seven new noise. Three hundred and forty parking spaces in the hotel garage, which are now available to the general public, would be taken off the market, he noted.

White noted that the city, through the Boston Redevelopment Authority, is cooperating with Boston College in its plans for a $21 million dormitory and parking garage complex, which would occupy 22 acres of its campus in Brighton.

The Mayor said that despite the college's offer to make payments to the city in lieu of taxes for the hotel, such an agreement to pay taxes would not be legally enforceable and is dependent upon continued voluntary cooperation by the school.

In February, White proposed changes in the city's zoning code which would place all university expansion on a conditional basis, with final approval resting with the Zoning Board of Appeals. He said the city was not attempting to limit expansion of colleges and universities, but rather is trying to reasonably control it. The Boston Zoning Commission held a hearing Wednesday, April 15, on the Mayor's proposal and took the matter under advisement.

neighborhoods. Funding covers a three-year period which begins when the first funding in the neighborhood is started.

The proposed areas, which include almost 26,000 housing units, are South Boston, the Mt. Bowdoin-Codman Square, Savin Hill and Blue Hill-Greenwood sections of Dorchester, Egleston Square area of Jamaica Plain, Roslindale and Allston-Brighton.

"Residents and civic groups in these neighborhoods have requested the expansion of the CIP to their area and I feel that they are justified in doing so," Mayor White said. "Through this program we can save entire neighborhoods from deterioration by helping the average home owner shoulder the heavy costs of home repair."

"This program is the most valuable asset we have for maintaining our present housing stock. I hope the federal government will fund the CIP more rapidly than it has its urban renewal commitments, because this program makes urban renewal unnecessary in the areas involved," the Mayor added.

The Mayor said he will submit five of the new requests by the end of this year. Applications for Roslindale and Allston-Brighton will be submitted early next year.

"I expect to have the federal funds for the first five areas by the end of this year," Mayor White continued. "I have been informed by federal officials that $90 million a year is available for this program. If the federal government lives up to this commitment, there should be little difficulty in securing the funds for Boston."

The Mayor said he will seek the advice of his Local Advisory Councils in determining the exact boundaries of the program in each neighborhood.

Indoor-Outdoor Recreation Centers

Mayor Kevin White announced plans for construction of indoor-outdoor recreation centers at each of eight housing projects throughout the city for year-round use by the entire neighborhood.

Total cost of the program, which is included in the recently approved capital outlay budget, is $1 million. Specific locations and design of the multi-activity centers will be determined after consultation with Local Advisory Councils, Recreation Committees, and the Tenants Councils, the Mayor said.

"The most underequipped of the city's 16 housing projects will be given first priority, with the ultimate goal being a pattern of wholesome recreation programs for all ages at each of these population concentrations," Mayor White explained.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

The City of Boston Building Department hereby invites bids for the following work:

33 Dale street, Ward 12, boarding and securing: All first story and basement window and door openings are to be secured against trespass and the elements. Remove all window sash damaged or otherwise and store on the inside by the openings. Remove all obstructions from the casings, sills and thresholds such as door barricades, nails, rods, hooks, shades, etc., to allow for solid bearing of the barricade. On the inside of these door and window openings securely attach with screw nails a single piece of 1/2-inch thick standard grade plywood with exterior glue that will cover the casings and rest on the window sills or thresholds. Where the window openings have no casings or sills the barricades will be secured to a built-up frame. Install a 2-inch x 4-inch brace on a 45 degree angle from the underside of a horizontal 2-inch x 4-inch cleat securely attached across the center of the barricade to a 2-foot long 2-inch x 4-inch anchor securely spiked to the floor or braced to the ceiling joists where bracing to the floor may be impractical. Any existing plywood barricades on the window and door openings will be removed and may be used on the inside in lieu of the 1/2-inch thick plywood. Surplus plywood stock may also be utilized. After the district inspector has inspected and approved all the inside work, the door opening to be used for exit will be barricaded from the outside with standard grade plywood with exterior glue at least 1/2-inch thick, fit tightly and completely fill the openings in all directions and be completely covered with 20 gauge cold rolled sheet metal and securely attached with screw nails. All barricades and the sheet metal will be covered on the outside with at least one coat of a high quality oil base gray paint.

All work will be left in a weathertight condition. Bidders will view the site and verify all measurements prior to bidding. Work will start and continue to completion without undue delay and be carried on in a workmanlike manner by mechanics well versed in their trades and of the highest standards. Contractors will supply all tools, equipment and materials to complete this project. Contractors will remove all surplus materials upon completion of work.

Bids are returnable on May 14, 1970.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, MAY 11, 1970

No. 19

Mayor Initiates New Budget System

Mayor Kevin White announced that the city will implement a new method of budgeting for 1971 which will streamline department spending, clearing away old programs and costs which are no longer useful and doing away with overlapping services.

The new system, known as Planning-Programming Budgeting (PPB) formulates new budgets based on long-range department goals instead of on budgets from previous year. Two days of intensive training for all city department heads was given at Boston University's Conference Center in North Andover.

Boston thus will become the first government administration in New England at either the state or local level to institute the PPB system.

"When I came to office, the city had been formulating its department budgets simply by adding on to department budgets from previous years," Mayor White said. "This increment budgeting never questioned the usefulness of the old budget items. It merely added layer upon layer of spending to city government without first eliminating outdated and unnecessary budget items. My department heads have been moving toward eliminating this inefficiency and I am certain with the PPB system these efforts will be achieved."

The Mayor noted that moving toward the implementation of this program he brought his new chief fiscal adviser Richard E. Wall to Boston from a similar position with the City of Philadelphia. In Philadelphia, Mr. Wall successfully implemented the PPB program, Mayor White said. PPB will be implemented in department budgets prepared next fall for 1971.

PPB was developed by the Rand Corporation for the U. S. Defense Department 10 years ago. It was broadened to all federal agencies by a presidential order in 1965.

The training seminar in North Andover and workshops to be held the first week in June at City Hall are being directed by the Boston Urban Observatory at Mayor White's request.

The federally supported Urban Observatory Program is aimed at mobilizing university expertise in solving urban problems.

Modern Biochemistry Laboratory

Construction is almost completed on Boston City Hospital's modern biochemistry laboratory located in the quadrangle, adjacent to the Sears Building. This $300,000 two-story structure which covers 6,000 square feet is scheduled to be opened in June.

Aron Laurie, M.D., Ph.D., Associate Professor of Medicine at Tufts Medical School, and head of the Boston City Hospital's Department of Clinical Biochemistry, who designed this laboratory, worked closely with the architects, Coletti Brothers of Hingham.

Credit should also be given to Mr. Ned Collins, Construction Coordinator for Health and Hospitals Works, who was instrumental in getting the plans under way.

The first floor will have an emergency chemistry laboratory, a development laboratory, administrative offices, a conference room, and a storeroom.

The second floor will be used for routine biochemical testing and will house a SMA12/60, a new instrument that performs 12 tests on one specimen of plasma. This instrument will be used as a screening procedure for all new patients.

The present biochemistry laboratory is too small to meet increasing demands. In 1960, 283,000 tests were performed compared to 850,000 in 1969.

With the new laboratory, expansion of the 15-member staff will be possible and a three-shift program will be instituted.

The present biochemistry laboratory located in the basement of the Medical Building will be renovated and used as a research laboratory for the Tufts Medical Service.

William Akers and Francis Manning Named

Mayor Kevin White named William Akers of Roxbury and Francis Manning of Allston to fill vacancies on the 11-member Council on Aging.

Mr. Akers and Mr. Manning will serve until May 1, 1971, when the terms of Gertrude Pratt and Christopher Kelly would have expired.

Delinquent Taxpayers

Mayor Kevin White announced that the city has successfully recovered almost $5½ million in back taxes since the creation of a task force two years ago designed to crack down on delinquent taxpayers.

The task force was created by Mayor White to implement more effectively a state law which allows the city to collect rents on property where the landlord is delinquent in his tax payments. The rents are credited toward the landlord's bill.

"What is important here is not the actual collection of rents, but the way in which the threatened use of this act discourages tax delinquency," Mayor White said. "In notifying delinquent landlords of our plans to implement these procedures, we let them know that we mean business and that this administration is not prepared to allow any 'free riders.' We will crack down on all those who try to get away with letting other taxpayers carry the burden of the costs of municipal services and programs."

The Mayor pointed out that in the past two years the city has threatened to implement the law (chapter 247 of the Acts of 1962) in approximately 3,000 cases. More than 70 percent of these landowners settled their tax bill before the city actually went through with the first collection, he added.

The Mayor's task force includes representatives from the Building, Housing Inspection and Law Departments, the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the city's Collector-Treasurer's Office. Working together, the departments evaluate the properties of delinquent taxpayers to determine if chapter 247 is applicable. On the advice of the committee the Law Department's Tax Title Division notifies a delinquent taxpayer of the city's intention to collect rents on his property.

"The establishment of this task force has greatly improved communications between the departments which deal with delinquent property," said Edward Riley, Director of the city's Tax Title Division. This is the first time in 24 years of working with the city's delinquent tax properties that I have been informed of the Building and Housing Inspection Departments' assessments of the properties or the BRA's plans for the area. This give and take of information has made all our efforts more effective," Mr. Riley added.

City Service Inspectors

Twelve city service inspectors began scanning the Model City area this week in a unique Model City Program aimed at improving city services throughout the neighborhood.

All the inspectors are community residents, specially trained for the job. Once they locate the violations, they will use instructive rather than punitive methods to stop them.

"We're not trying to take violators to court. The inspectors will concentrate on working with the violators in a public education campaign," says Paul Parks, Model City Administrator.

Among the things the inspectors will be looking for are improper trash and garbage receptacles, poor street cleaning, inadequate trash collection, littered vacant lots, abandoned cars, rodent and insect problems and obvious structural violations in buildings.

Open-House Day

Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis, Boston Parks and Recreation Department, announced "Open-House Day at the Department's Greenhouses" on Sunday, May 17, 1970, from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. The greenhouses are located at the corner of Morton street and the American Legion Highway at Franklin Park, Jamaica Plain. Parking is available.

Open-house day is part of the "Partners in Conservation" program sponsored jointly by the Park Department and Summerthing. The feature of the day will be tours of the greenhouses which will be filled with tropical plants, annuals and many exotic plants which have been brought to their fullest bloom and beauty under the green thumb hands of Mr. Michael Connor and Mr. James Kelleher.

All interested persons are invited to attend and for further information, call Mrs. Sharon Weinstein at the Parks and Recreation Department, City Hall, Boston, 722-4100—Ext. 152.

The inspectors were recruited by the Model Neighborhood Board and trained by Model City Administration staff, local contractor Chuck Williams, and personnel from various city departments. They are working out of the Roxbury Little City Hall.

The training program and inspector project is one of several Model City projects to improve city services. A few of the other projects include a vacant lot cleanup, an information campaign about proper refuse disposal, and a plastic bag demonstration now under way.

This project is being funded by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under its Demonstration Cities Act of 1966.

Rent Cut for Elderly

Mayor Kevin White announced a cut in rent for more than 2,000 elderly residents of federally sponsored housing developments in the city.

The rental decrease, averaging $12 a month, is in keeping with the provisions of a recently adopted amendment to the Federal Housing Act. The amendment provides that residents of federal housing developments should not be required to pay more than 25 percent of their incomes for rent.

The reductions, which also will be granted to nonelderly residents in the near future, are retroactive to March 24, when the amendment was signed into law.

"The Boston Housing Authority is among the first in the nation to implement the provisions of the so-called Brooke Amendment," Mayor White said. "The elderly are the first to benefit because most of them are living on fixed incomes and have been hit hardest by inflation."

Approximately 35,000 of the 50,000 residents of housing projects in the city reside in federally sponsored developments.

Civil Service Examinations

Civil service examinations for Parks and Recreation Department positions will be held on June 6, 1970, for the following positions:

Recreation Coordinator, minimum salary, $129.50 per week; maximum, $172.75 per week.

Recreation Instructor, minimum salary, $99.75 per week; maximum, $129.50 per week.

Full details and applications may be obtained at the office of Civil Service, State House, Boston. The last date for filing of applications is Monday, May 18.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, MAY 18, 1970

NO. 20

Mayor Fetes Champion Boston Bruins at City Hall

Mayor Kevin White feted the Boston Bruins on Monday, May 11, with a parade and presentations that drew 200,000 fans — young and old — to cheer the men who returned the Stanley Cup to Boston after 29 years.

The victory parade began at 1 P.M. at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Park square. The parade moved down Stuart street to Kneeland street, up Washington street to Court street and to a reviewing stand in City Hall Plaza.

"This parade is for everyone who joins me in honoring the Bruins for the nationwide acclaim they have received, for their superb athletic ability and their fine sportsmanship," Mayor White said.

"There has been a lot of dissent among various groups recently, but today everyone agrees on one thing — the Bruins are Number One!"

Among the groups who participated in the parade were the Boston Fire and Police Department bands and Color Guards, the mounted police division, Your Father's Mustache Banjo Band, and the St. Peter's Band of Dorchester.

At a ceremony in City Hall Plaza, Mayor White presented the Bruins with a Paul Revere pitcher; the President and Chairman Weston Adams, Sr., The Boston Medal for Distinguished Service (it was the first time it was ever presented to anyone during the White administration), and the owner of the Bruins, Weston Adams, Jr., received an official Paul Revere bowl.

Dr. Gibson Appointed Chairman by Mayor

Mayor Kevin White announced the appointment of Dr. John S. Gibson, director of the Lincoln Filene Center for Citizenship and Public Affairs at Tufts University, to serve as chairman of the Mayor's Committee on the Urban University. Dr. Gibson replaces Dr. Arland Christ-Janer, president of Boston University. Dr. Christ-Janer is leaving Massachusetts to assume the position of president of the College Entrance Examination Board.

The committee, created by Mayor White in September, 1968, has concerned itself with a number of issues dealing with city-university relationships and contributions universities might make toward solving city problems. The committee is made up of educators, civic leaders and city officials.

The committee undertook and published a major study of the impact of colleges and universities on Boston's housing supply and rental levels. It helped to shape a volunteer tutor program and has recommended programs universities might undertake in cooperation with the city's public schools and cultural and civic activities.

Senior Citizen Conference

Boston's senior citizens had an opportunity last week during a conference to tell Mayor Kevin White how the city can best serve their needs. Workshop leaders will meet informally to organize the ideas developed in their workshop which will be presented to the Mayor on May 20 at 2 P.M. in his office. Workshop leaders will report the outcome of their meeting with the Mayor to a mass meeting of senior citizens in the Statler Hilton ballroom on May 21. The meeting will be held from 1 to 4 P.M.

Sponsored by the Mayor's Council on Aging, the conference is designed to provide a forum for a give and take of information between senior citizens and city officials. Recommendations for city action in the 70s which would improve conditions for the elderly will be discussed.

"One out of every five Boston residents is 60 or older," Mayor White said. "Yet, our senior citizens never had an organized voice in city government until the creation of the Council on Aging a little more than a year ago.

"Since then I have tried to initiate new programs in the city to benefit our seniors — the hot lunch program in our schools, reduced movie theatre and restaurant costs, rent control, additional low-cost housing for the elderly and most recently, a senior citizen placement service. Still, there is much more that could be done, and I am anxious to hear the suggestions of Boston's senior citizens themselves."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division

GARAMYCIN

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As a result of publicly advertised bids, your Honor approved a contract with Schering Corporation on October 31, 1969, for 4,000 vials of garamycin injectable. This company is the sole manufacturer and was the only bidder.

Since that time, there has been a tremendous increase in the use of this item and the contract amount plus the optional twenty-five percent (25 percent) have been exhausted.

The Department of Health and Hospitals now estimates that an additional 15,000 vials will be needed until March 31, 1970. Inasmuch as the Schering Corporation is the only manufacturer and the proposed contract will be made directly with the manufacturer, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for bids.

Schering Corporation decreased its price by approximately 18 percent during the present contract period and will furnish this item at the reduced price for this proposed contract.

It is therefore requested that permission be granted me to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Schering Corporation for approximately 15,000 vials of garamycin injectable, to be delivered as requested until March 31, 1970, at a price not to exceed $4.41 per vial.

Total amount of contract is not to exceed $66,150, less 2 percent, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

CERTAIN SUPPLIES, IBM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Boston Public Library respectfully request the approval of your Honor for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to the International Business Machines Corporation, 520 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., for the purchase of certain supplies to be used in connection with rented IBM data processing equipment during the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971. To keep the equipment in operation it is essential that we have a sufficient quantity of the correct card and paper stock available for use in these machines. IBM has worked closely with the Library during the past few years to design stock compatible with their machines. In view of this, and in view of the fact that the Library's program of mechanizing its internal operations is facilitated by having a local firm readily available for consultation in the event of a breakdown of machines, the Board of Trustees in charge of the Library Department, acting in the name of and for the City of Boston, have "Voted, That there be entered into without public advertising with International Business Machines Corporation, 520 Boylston street, Boston, Mass., the contract for the purchase of certain supplies to be used in connection with rented IBM data processing equipment during the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, the total cost for such supplies to be subject to the terms, agreements, and conditions set forth in said contract."

It is estimated that the total amount of this contract will not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000). The approval of your Honor for the award of the contract to International Business Machines Corporation as above is hereby requested.

Respectfully,
PHILIP J. MCNIFF,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby respectfully request the authorization of your Honor to dispense with public solicitation for proposals in the City Record in awarding a contract to Highway Engineering, engineers, with offices located at 210 South street, Boston, Mass., for property line and topographic survey at various park sites within the City of Boston, for a fee not to exceed ten thousand (10,000) dollars computed in accordance with the Recommended Fee Schedule for Professional Service published by Eastern Massachusetts Association of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors, Inc., under the date of September 25, 1968.

The subject services involve the performance of unique and technical skills, requiring highly specialized training and development, and it is not felt that their procurement would be assured through the medium of a public advertising for competitive bids.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH E. CURTIS,

Chester W. Browne and Associates, Inc., would be paid a fee for its services as set forth in the A.I.A. Recommended Minimum "B" rate schedule, dated May 4, 1967. In this instance the fee would equal 11.07 percent of the total construction cost. A further contract stipulation would limit the city's total liability under the contract to $55,708, including $7,000 for supplementary services.

The nature of the services to be performed here are professional in character, and therefore, it would be of no avail to the City of Boston to publicly solicit proposals for the subject services.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

the public invitation for proposals in the City Record, and to award a contract to John Guarino, architect, 2 Lexington street, East Boston, Mass., for architectural and engineering services in the preparation of plans, specifications and construction cost estimates for, and for the supervision of alterations and repairs to and within the Maternity Building at the Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass. The estimated construction cost associated with the alterations and repairs of this building is $825,000.

John Guarino, architect, would be paid a fee for his services as set forth in the A.I.A. Recommended Minimum "B" rate schedule, dated May 4, 1967. In this instance, the fee would equal 9.65 percent of the total construction cost. A further contract stipulation would limit the city's total liability under the contract to $87,113, including $7,500 for supplementary services.

The nature of the services to be performed here are professional in character, and therefore, it would be of no avail to the City of Boston to publicly solicit proposals for the subject services.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT KEEPING STREETS OPEN FOLLOWING SNOWSTORMS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On December 31, 1969, permission was requested and granted to award contracts without advertising to certain contractors for the furnishing of equipment to supplement the department forces in connection with keeping the streets open following snowstorms.

We have been able to procure the services of four more contractors who have agreed to work at the rates and conditions as outlined in my letter of December 31, 1969.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with further public advertising and award contracts to the following contractors to supply this equipment:

Henry Baker, 1590 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park.
P. V. Barone Corporation, 152 Strathmore road, Brighton.

Dennis E. Dugan, Main street, Brewster.
Rosindale Asphalt, 4 Lee street, Walpole.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This year, as in past years, this department has awarded contracts, after open bidding, for equipment to be used within the various districts of the city to supplement the department forces and equipment in connection with keeping highways and streets open following snowstorms.

Because we received no bids for this work in some districts, we are forced to engage contractors who do not have sufficient equipment to undertake the work load required for a whole district.

I have established rates for these plows that are below the average price bid for similar equipment used in district work, and all available equipment will be hired.

Accordingly, your permission is requested to dispense with further public advertising and to award contracts to the following contractors to supply this equipment:

T & T Construction Company, 8 Grant road, Winchester.

S. J. Tomasello Corporation, 1895 Centre street, West Roxbury.

F. J. Lepere & Sons Company, 109 Theodore Parker road, West Roxbury.

R. J. Lyons, Inc., 44 Atkins street, Brighton.

John J. Amara & Sons, 1019 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park.

A. J. Welch Corporation, 35 Electric avenue, Brighton.

Wales Corporation, Russell street, West Peabody.

It is understood and agreed that the work is to be performed at the following established hourly rates:

2-axle truck plowing, $20; 2-axle truck hauling, $15; 3-axle truck plowing, $25; 3-axle truck hauling, $20; large bulldozer, $30; small bulldozer, $25; front-end loader, $30; large front-end loader, $35; grader, $30; jeep, $18; spreader, $28; gradall, $30.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

NO. 21

Mayor White Announces Drug Education Program

Mayor Kevin White last week announced that a $65,000 federally financed drug education program for Boston school children is under way with the first in a series of teacher-training sessions.

The education program is part of Turnoff, the Mayor's anti-drug abuse campaign.

More than 120 teachers participated in the first of three Saturday training sessions (commencing May 16) at the J. W. McCormack School, Columbia Point, South Boston. The teachers came from Boston's public, private and parochial schools.

A 12-member faculty will conduct the day-long teacher-training, which has been planned by representatives of the Mayor's Council on Drug Abuse, the Boston Public School Department and the schools of the Archdiocese of Boston. The faculty includes medical personnel, psychologists, representatives of the state Department of Education, the education office of the Boston Police Drug Control Unit, teachers from outside Boston and representatives of the participating school systems.

In addition to the teacher-training program, the Mayor's Council on Drug Abuse will provide educational materials suitable for use with students from kindergarten through high school.

Some 120 sets of educational materials were provided without cost to the participating schools. They became available for classroom use after the first training session.

The curriculum material, prepared by Dr. David C. Lewis, director of the Medical Out-Patient Department and Emergency Unit at Beth Israel Hospital, includes five student handbooks on drugs and tape-recorded interviews with teen-age drug users. The five areas covered are opiates, stimulants, psychedelics, alcohol and depressants, tobacco and inhalants.

Also part of the classroom materials are records, filmstrips, slides, teacher manuals and reference material provided by the 3M Corporation and Multi-Medial Products.

Public Health Award

The State Department of Public Health has awarded $35,000, the first payment of a three-year grant to Dr. Edmund Lewis, Chief of Renal Division, Boston City Hospital, and Assistant Professor of Medicine, Harvard.

The grant will be used to establish a four-bed transplant unit in the Thorndike Memorial Building. Presently the hospital has a two-bed dialysis unit.

Boston City Hospital is a leader in the field of kidney transplants. In the past two years thirty cadaver transplants have been performed.

Research studies in transplantation are being conducted here by Doctor Lewis and also by Dr. Anthony Monaco, Chief of Transplant Division, Harvard Surgical Services, and Associate Professor of Medicine, Harvard Medical School.

Construction of Heath Street School Under Way

Construction of the fifth of 12 new schools to be built in Boston this year has begun, Mayor Kevin White announced on May 20.

The 1,100-pupil Heath Street School in Roxbury will be the largest elementary school in Boston. It will replace the Jefferson and Bulfinch elementary schools.

"This is the fifth building under construction in our 'school-a-month' program in which we are trying to upgrade Boston's school facilities by building 12 new schools in one year," Mayor White said.

Sixty-five percent of the school's $6 million construction cost will be subsidized by the state under the Racial Imbalance Law guidelines. The school will be built by the DeStefano Construction Company of Brighton.

"The Heath Street School is designed to be a community gathering place where residents can take advantage of its facilities and meeting rooms year round," Mayor White said.

The school will house a library, gymnasium and an olympic size swimming pool. It will be air conditioned and carpeted throughout.

The clinic will move outdoors at George Wright Course in Hyde Park and William F. Devine Course at Franklin Park on June 15 with Outdoor School of Golf Instruction on tap for Boston future Arnold Palmers, under actual playing conditions.

Students' Trip

Staff of the Model City Educational Counseling Service traveled with ten of their student-clients to New York last Friday to participate in the NAACP Legal Defense Fund Institute, 1970.

The day included various workshops that dealt with crime and race, cooling the economy, freedom of the press, the ordering of national priorities and school crisis 1970 — North and South.

"The purpose of the trip was to give the students a chance to actually see some of the people whom they read about and hear their views firsthand. We feel this is an important part of our counseling service," said Barbara Burke, director of the counseling service.

All of the students are presently being counseled by the Educational Counseling Service. The service, funded through the Talent Search Division of the United States Office of Education, is available for all residents of Boston interested in post-secondary schooling.

NCAA Summer Sports Youth Program Started

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis announced on May 18 that Boston College, Boston University and the Hub Recreation Department will participate in the NCAA summer sports youth program.

Boston youngsters will be transported by buses during the summer months to Boston College and Boston University sports facilities and the athletic directors and staffs at these sites will supervise and direct the program.

There will be two sessions daily: A.M. session, boys and girls, ages 10 through 11; P.M. session, boys and girls, ages 12 through 13. Free busing, T shirts and hot meals will be provided.

Selection of participants in program is made on a "First come, first serve" basis.

Application and additional information may be obtained by contacting Mr. John Landry, Sr., coordinator, Boston Parks and Recreation Department, Pinebank, Jamaica Plain, 524-6400, all Little City Halls and the 14 Boston Recreation Centers.

The activities will include: for boys, football, track and field, soccer, basketball, gymnastics — for girls, modern dance, volleyball, softball, track and field, and gymnastics.

PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1970

NO. 22

Downtown Boston Gets Face-Lifting

On Sunday, May 24, Boston held the largest one-day cleanup in its history. Vehicular traffic was off limits from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M.

The Common, Public Garden, and downtown business district were the focus of the cleanup. A crowd of more than 2,000 volunteers worked with city crews to a background of live afternoon musical entertainment.

Some 30,000 feet of crosswalks and 33,000 feet of road lines were painted in the climax of the city's month-long cleanup campaign. Further, 551 new traffic signs and 42 new street signs were set up and 325 traffic poles were refurbished.

The streets closed to traffic were Arlington, Boylston, Essex, Federal, Congress, Court, Tremont, Park, and Beacon.

"This cleanup is especially significant because it is a concerted effort of city workers, residents, and college students who want to keep our environment clean and healthy. The success of this cleanup and of a clean Boston year-round, depends on the efforts of all of us who live and work in the city. Only by working together can we make Boston a good place in which to live," Mayor White said.

The city's Public Works, Parks and Recreation, Fire and Police Departments contributed manpower and planning to renew and replace traffic signals, signs and poles, skim coat roadways, install litter baskets, and restore the clean and colorful environment of the downtown area.

The Boston Collegiate Council, an association of student volunteers from more than 40 colleges, helped the Mayor's Office of Public Service and other city departments organize volunteers.

City employees supervised the volunteer work crews cleaning the Common and the Garden, planting trees and flowers and painting fences, benches, and bridges. All statuary was cleaned or repainted. Other volunteers cleaned streets and alleys in the area.

Two massive cleanup projects sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the Boston Collegiate Council have also been held at Franklin Park and the Back Bay Fens.

New BCH Construction Scheduled for June

Construction of the first phase of the $200 million new Boston City Hospital is scheduled to start early next month, Mayor Kevin White announced last week.

Phase one includes a nurses' residence, house officers' quarters, parking garage, recreation center and foundations for the nursing school and outpatient department.

Construction will begin on a four-acre site bounded by Massachusetts and Harrison avenues and Northampton and Albany streets. The outpatient department will span Massachusetts avenue on air rights linking the residential and academic block to new buildings which eventually will replace the present City Hospital structures.

In addition to new hospital construction, the city will spend $2.5 million to renovate existing facilities, the Mayor said.

Robert T. Kenney, Director of Public Facilities, said a $15.6 million contract for phase one has been awarded to the Perini Corporation of Framingham, the low bidder on the project.

The tallest building on the site will be a 29-story nurses' residence, with 234 apartment units capable of housing 468 students. It will replace the Vose House Nurses' Residence Hall and Academic Building. The 12-story house officers' quarters will contain 66 efficiency apartment units with kitchenettes, 20 one-bedroom apartments and 26 two-bedroom apartments.

The recreation center, which will serve the hospital staff, the nursing school and the neighborhood community, will house a pool, squash courts, a gymnasium, exercise rooms and an auditorium.

The nursing school will be a 6-story structure including 11 classrooms, 3 laboratories and faculty and administrative offices.

A 539-car garage will extend under all the buildings in the residential and academic block and its exposed roof will be landscaped to provide an outdoor recreation area for community and hospital use.

The Outpatient Building, the nurses' residence and the nursing school will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1972. The complex was designed by the architectural firm of Samuel Glaser and Partners of Boston under contract to the Public Facilities Department.

Commissioner Kerrissey Heads Elderly Affairs

Mayor Kevin White appointed ten associate commissioners on May 26 to guide the city's newly created Commission on Affairs of the Elderly. With these appointments, Boston becomes the third city in the country to have a full-time department devoted to senior citizens' problems.

"With more than 118,000 seniors in Boston, there was a great need to create a permanent body to deal with affairs of the elderly. For too long, Boston's senior citizens have not had enough visibility in city government," Mayor White said. "Now, with the creation of a full-time department devoted to elderly affairs, the senior citizens of Boston will have a strong and effective voice in the administration of city government."

Appointed to head the commission was Joseph Kerrissey of Milton who was chairman of the former Mayor's Council on Aging. Associate Commissioners include: Mrs. Fannie L. Allen, Roxbury; Mrs. Mary C. Colbert, Charlestown; Christopher Kelly, Hyde Park; Matthew E. Sullivan, Cohasset; Frank Manning, Back Bay; James Spillane, Dorchester; William Akers, Roxbury; Professor Louis Lowy, Back Bay, and Ken V. Arvedon, Back Bay.

HERSEY METER PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Water Division of the Public Works Department for Hersey meter parts. Hersey-Sparling Meter Company, the manufacturer of these parts, has submitted an informal written quotation.

Since this company is the manufacturer and only source of supply, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for bids. Authority is therefore requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to Hersey-Sparling Meter Company.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $16,000, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

REPLACEMENT PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Public Works Department for replacement parts for the incinerator.

Westinghouse Electric Supply Company is the manufacturer and only supplier of the parts requested. Authority is therefore requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Westinghouse Electric Supply Company.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $6,500, net.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,

Mayor Seeks Creation of "Park Plaza" Project

Mayor Kevin H. White announced last week that he is asking the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) to create a detailed development plan for a 35-acre tract in the Park Square district of Boston.

The project, to be known as "Park Plaza," will be situated along the southern border of the Boston Common.

Private developers during the past year have expressed strong interest in constructing major office buildings, apartments, and hotels to replace many of the existing out-moded buildings in the area.

"Several major developers have expressed strong interest to the BRA during the last year to undertake new construction within this area," Mayor White said. "However, the land parcels within this area are small in size and irregular in shape and only if strict guidelines are laid down by the BRA can the area be developed properly to return maximum benefit to the city.

"Park Plaza could be one of the most exciting and important projects in the city's history," Mayor White said.

The five-man BRA Board will be asked on June 4 to reconfirm its 1965 ruling on the area's eligibility for urban renewal. If Board approval is granted, potential investors will be asked to submit development plans to the BRA. After selecting the plans that best meet the city's long-range goals, the BRA will seek final approval from the Boston City Council, the Mayor, and the Massachusetts Department

Hats Off!

*Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of colour beneath the sky;*

Hats Off!

The Flag is passing by!

*Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.*

Hats Off!

*The colours before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.*

*Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State;
Weary marches and sinking Ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips.*

*Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong Land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honour and reverent awe.*

*Sign of a nation great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong;
Pride and glory and honour, — all
Live in the colours to stand or fall.*

Hats Off!

*Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high;*

Hats Off!

The Flag is passing by!

of Community Affairs. Detailed information packages will be available to developers in mid-June.

The Park Plaza district, which is bounded in general by Boylston and Stuart-Kneeland streets, between Arlington and Knapp streets, includes many theaters and restaurants that hopefully will be retained. Also to be retained are a number of other sound buildings such as the Colonial Theatre, the Little Building, and the Statler-Hilton.

The Park Plaza project will take from eight to ten years to complete. A careful staging plan will be followed to minimize disruption of existing businesses and to provide new space for relocating enterprises within the area.

The general objectives for Park Plaza are as follows:

To improve the environment of this important section of the city.

To create a mixture of uses, which will reinforce surrounding areas, to include: three to six million square feet of new office space; 2,500 to 3,500 new parking spaces; 500,000 to 750,000 square feet of commercial space; 1,200 to 2,000 new apartments; and 1,500 to 2,500 hotel rooms.

To upgrade lower Washington street and enlarge and improve nighttime activity.

To provide a development link between the older downtown retail and office centers and the Back Bay commercial district.

To improve and stabilize surrounding neighborhoods such as Bay Village, Back Bay, and Chinatown.

To create an attractive residential community.

To strengthen the city's economy by attracting major developments and increasing tax revenues.

To attract tourists and conventions to the city.

To prevent haphazard private development based on the present archaic street pattern. (Existing streets now comprise 45 percent of the land in the area.)

The entire area is within the Central Business District Urban Renewal Project Area that was approved by the BRA Board and the City Council in 1967. Lack of federal funding and lack of developer interest had prevented detailed planning from being carried out.

The Park Plaza project would not call for any federal financial assistance at this time.

Developers will pay the costs of acquisition, relocation, and demolition. The City of Boston will be asked to abandon certain streets and alleys, to reconstruct Charles street on a new alignment, and to relocate public utilities where necessary.

Renewed developer interest in the area is based in part on its location in the center of Boston's commercial district and in part on the area's existing assets, the Mayor noted.

The nearby Boston Common and Public Garden offer unequalled park land. Three subway stations on two lines are within the project area. And a large number of legitimate theaters, movie houses, and fine restaurants exist within and near the district forming the nucleus for a larger and more active nighttime center.

Renewal activity south of Stuart and Kneeland streets in the South Cove renewal area, including the new Howard Johnson's motel and the New England Medical Center under construction, will stabilize and upgrade the southern flank of the new project.

New Charles street, also under way in the South Cove, will provide clear access to the Turnpike and Expressway system.

The Park Plaza district is comprised of old, low-density commercial buildings as well as a large number of open parking lots, which have decreased $11 million in assessed valuation during the last 15 years.

*I swing before your eyes as a bright gleam of color,
A symbol of yourself, the pictured suggestion of that which makes this Nation. My stars and my stripes are your dream and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith, because you have made them so out of your hearts. This is the real meaning as you are of the Nation for which it stands.*

Old City Hall Renovation Started

Mayor Kevin White and city officials past and present paid their last respects to the offices that once housed them and then watched as major renovations got under way to modernize the interior of Boston's Old City Hall.

The $2.5 million restoration will maintain the original exterior facade while providing modern office space, banking facilities, a restaurant with outdoor dining and specialty shops inside. The work is scheduled for completion by early 1971.

The redevelopers will pay more than an estimated $100,000 yearly to the city as payment in lieu of taxes.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority Board voted last week to award the contract to Old City Hall

Landmark Corporation, a subsidiary of Architectural Heritage, Inc., a Boston-based nonprofit corporation concerned with the preservation of historic landmarks.

A 99-year lease signed by Mayor White at a press conference in front of Old City Hall allows the Landmark Corporation to begin renovation and restoration of the 105-year-old building. The Landmark Corporation had been designated tentatively as redeveloper in August of 1969 subject to submission of acceptable terms and satisfactory execution of a lease.

"The restoration of the exterior of Old City Hall in its original form will preserve for the city one of its most historic landmarks while converting it into a tax-contributing structure," Mayor White said. "Old and new Boston will be unified in a way that will benefit all Bostonians and preserve for posterity the history that is so much a part of our great city."

Renovation plans call for a $2 million construction loan to completely modernize the building's interior, including new heating, plumbing, air conditioning and electrical systems and modern self-service elevators. Most ceilings will be lowered throughout, new lighting and floor covering will be added and all surfaces will be renewed, creating contemporary office space. Several rooms will be restored to their original appearance.

The building's exterior will be cleaned and restored to maintain the original facade and to preserve it as an historic landmark.

"Forty percent of the building's 80,000 square feet of space is under commitment already," said John Hall of Minot DeBlois and Maddison, Inc., rental agents for the property. "With its close proximity to the Government Center, the downtown retail and financial districts, its location on School street makes it one of the area's best locations for commercial use."

Old City Hall became the center of controversy in 1967 when the city began preparations for its transfer into New City Hall. The fate of the historic French second empire building was debated throughout Boston. The site had also been the location of the first public school in the United States. Also, the two statues in the front courtyard, of Benjamin Franklin and Mayor Josiah Quincy, draw the attention of more than one million Freedom Trail walkers every year.

City Hospital Accreditation Restored

Boston City Hospital, which has been nonaccredited since December 29, has regained its accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, it was announced on May 29 by Mayor Kevin White.

The Mayor noted that in less than four months the hospital complied with most of the commission's 52 recommendations for improvement of the quality of patient care. The recommendations were based on a survey conducted by a commission representative last June. The hospital was resurveyed by a three-member team on April 28, 29, and 30.

"This renewal of faith in Boston City Hospital by the medical profession justifies our belief that the hospital will continue to be an integral part of Boston's world-famous medical complex," the Mayor said. "We are about to break ground for the first phase of a master building program that will provide a new Outpatient Department and Nursing School. Now that the accreditation has been restored, we know that the rebuilding of the hospital is both wise and necessary," he added.

In restoring the hospital's accreditation for one year, the Commission forwarded a list of 17 recommendations which it said should be implemented before the next survey.

"Six new programs, costing a total of $753,000, have been instituted to correct deficiencies cited by the Accreditation Committee," the Mayor said. These include:

In-service job training and education, particularly in the housekeeping, dietary, and nursing areas ($325,000);

Staffing of "support" departments, such as Anesthesiology, Radiology, and Psychiatry, expanded with additional senior physicians and technicians ($179,000);

Staff and equip the obstetrics and gynecology and delivery suites ($112,000); and Begin automation of laboratory procedures to ensure prompt, accurate results.

"In addition to the new programs, repairs and renovation of the hospital's physical plant, costing more than $2 million, have been undertaken," the Mayor said. Included is the renovation of the Maternity Building and separation of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Departments at a cost of $1.5 million.

The controversy was finally resolved in 1968 when Mayor White and the Boston City Council adopted the revised Central Business District Redevelopment Plan which specified that Old City Hall be offered for sale with preservation restrictions upon the exterior.

Architects for the project are Anderson-Notter Associates of Boston. Kirkland Construction Company of Cambridge is the general contractor and Minot DeBlois and Maddison, Inc., are the rental agents for the property.

Six Boston savings banks are providing the construction loan. They are the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank, Charlestown Savings Bank, Home Savings Bank, South Boston Savings Bank, Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank, and the Union Warren Savings Bank.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT Purchasing Division

PARKING METER PARTS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Traffic and Parking Department for parking meter parts.

M. H. Rhodes Company is the manufacturer and only supplier of the parts requested.

Authority is therefore requested to dispense with publicly advertising for bids and award a contract, without public advertisement, to M. H. Rhodes Company.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $2,320, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

PERISHABLE FOODS, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On December 29, 1969, your Honor approved a letter to award contracts to several companies for furnishing perishable foods, etc., to the various city departments from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive.

Authority is requested at this time to award a contract, without public advertisement, to the following-named company for perishable foods to be furnished to the various city departments from April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, inclusive:

New England Hotel Supply Company, Inc., 55 Foodmart street, Boston, Mass.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT STREET LIGHTING, ETC.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Recently the somewhat dormant code-enforcement program has been reactivated and this department must provide a new detailed three-year program for roadway, sidewalk and street lighting amounting to $3,000,000.

To implement the program and to get one third or close to $1,000,000 of this advertised and constructed in 1970, as is our goal, will necessitate a comprehensive gathering and coordination of information and needs from many departments such as Fire, Police, Traffic, Parks and Recreation, our own Sewer, Water, Highway and Street Lighting Sections plus all of the public utility companies. In addition, there are federal requirements such as preparing contract books to federal standards, submitting contract documents to HUD for approval, having contractors and change orders approved by HUD and having "As Built" drawings prepared.

All of these, especially the federal requirements, need expertise to bring about and of necessity are time-consuming. If I were to attempt to impose such a work load on our limited forces over and above the comprehensive normal programs I would have great difficulty in meeting any realistic timetable.

Fortunately, the City of Malden has already had several years of code-enforcement planning work done for them by a knowledgeable consultant firm, Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, Inc., and as a result they have a smooth operating code-enforcement program.

Bearing in mind the above-referenced factors, it appears to me that a logical solution to the necessary implementation of our code-enforcement program would be to take advantage of proven experience in this field and to hire Malden's consultant for our work.

Therefore, your Honor's permission is requested to dispense with advertising and to award a contract to the engineering consultant firm of Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, Inc., of 11 Beacon street, Boston, to make the necessary studies, prepare Public Improvement Commission plans, contract plans and documents, coordinate federal, departmental, interdepartmental and private agencies requirements, obtain necessary borings and surveys, provide field inspection and engineering services and prepare "As Built" plans when and as required by this department for a sum not to exceed $90,000 and for a period not to exceed one year from the award date.

Payment for such services would be their established billing rates for various grades of technical personnel with the provision that the monthly billings under rates per hour would not exceed their direct payroll for said personnel multiplied by a 2.20 factor. In addition, such items as survey work, borings or any other necessary similar related work performed by companies engaged by the consultant would be paid for directly as "out-of-pocket" expenses.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

ENGINEERING SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The engineering firm of Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., is presently under contract with the City of Boston, Public Works Department, to provide engineering services for highway construction and reconstruction in Washington Park Urban Renewal Area Project No. Mass. R-24. This contract, which originated in March, 1968, and which was amended with your approval in August, 1969, was for a total amount not to exceed $456,000 and it is scheduled to terminate on January 25, 1970.

Recently in conjunction with the BRA, we made a review of the amount of street work necessary to finish the planned program for the Washington Park area and it was agreed that it will probably take slightly over two more years. Consequently, the present Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., contract is inadequate both for money and time because as of December 1, 1969, there was only $33,000 left and this will just about last until the present January 25, 1970, time limit of their contract. Therefore, if we were to have the consultant do all the work estimated to be needed to complete the project we would need to provide an additional $350,000 for consultants' fees and two more years of time also.

However, sufficient project funds to entirely complete the work planned for Washington Park are not presently on hand and availability of these additional funds cannot be routinely assumed. Consequently it is not practical at this time to request any more for consultant fees than they would need in order to provide the necessary engineering services to implement the construction that present funds will allow.

Bearing this in mind, we estimate that at this time a consultant's fee of $100,000 and a time limit of one year is rational with the hope and expectation that sufficient project funds will eventually be made available for the entire Washington Park planned program. When and if this does occur, that would be the time to amend any existing consultant's contract to match project funds and to increase the time limit of consultant's services.

Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., has handled all of the engineering for Washington Park to date, and have done a most satisfactory job of it. They are particularly qualified to continue on with the work to completion and they have the complete confidence of the BRA.

Therefore, in order to insure the continuity of the Washington Park Urban Renewal program, I respectfully request your approval to dispense with public advertising and to award a new contract to Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, Inc., 11 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., to provide professional engineering services for the design and preparation of plans, specifications, contract documents, and designated supplementary services required for further construction and reconstruction of streets within the Washington Park Urban Renewal Area, Project No. Mass. R-24, with said contract to have a time limit of one year from the date of your approval and to be for an amount not to exceed $100,000.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Because of the uncertainty that prevails over the proposed changes in the Fort Point Channel area, I have deferred major repairs to the Northern Avenue Bridge until it could be determined if the bridge in its present form was to remain unchanged.

I do not think that this policy can be carried out much longer without some assurance that existing structure is not subject to failure because of deterioration.

The Universal Engineering Corporation has, at my request, submitted a proposal for examining and reporting on the condition of this bridge for a lump sum plus actual cost of cranes, boat, and police details.

I therefore request permission be granted to dispose with public advertising and award a contract to the Universal Engineering Corporation of 100 Boylston street, Boston, Mass. 02116, for engineering services to determine the condition and needed repairs to the structure and machinery of the Northern Avenue Bridge, for a lump sum of $19,800, plus the actual cost of equipment to reach the top chords and upper linkages, police details, and the use of a boat to work from below the bridge.

The total cost is not to exceed $22,000.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH F. CASAZZA,
Commissioner of Public Works.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT

UNIFORM AND MOP SERVICE

YOUR HONOR:

I respectfully request your written permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record in awarding a contract to Federal National Linen Service Company of 1310 Columbus avenue, Boston, for uniform and mop service for personnel at the Real Property Department for the period April 1, 1969, through March 31, 1970, at a total cost not to exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000).

This firm's rates are reasonable and fair, and the firm has performed this work in the past in a capable manner.

In my opinion the invitation for bids would serve no useful purpose.

Yours truly,

ANTHONY E. FERGIONE,
Assistant Commissioner,
Real Property Department.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

No. 24

Rent Appeals Board Resolves 220 Cases

Mayor Kevin White announced on June 11 that after four months of operation the city's Board of Rent Appeals has completed 220 cases allowing a full or partial rental increase in 64 percent of the cases while denying any increase in 36 percent.

In 57 percent a partial increase was permitted while the full increase requested was permitted in only 7 percent of the cases, according to the Mayor. In 14 cases the current rent was rolled back due to a reduction in services or building deterioration.

"Boston is the only city in the commonwealth which has a rent control board," Mayor White said. "At its conception it was the center of controversy and the target of criticism, but I feel the board's decisions have proven fair to both landlord and tenant interests. No landlord or tenant should be afraid to argue his case before the board," the Mayor said.

"In four months of operation we have been able to examine the workability of each aspect of the rent control law and the administration may seek further steps to make it even more effective in the future," Mayor White added.

The Mayor also noted that only three landlords have sought to have the board's decisions reviewed by the district courts. All but one have complied with the board's decision while their cases are pending in court.

Mayor White signed into law on November 21, 1969, the rent control ordinance which was the first in Boston since World War II. The measure provided for a five-member control board with regulatory power over 60,000 of the city's rental units. Excluded are luxury apartments, public housing, one, two, and three family dwellings.

Board records show that the average reported rent increase since the base period of December 1, 1968, was 26 percent. Average increases proposed for 1970 as reported to the board were 10 percent of current rent with the highest average increase being 19 percent in Boston Proper, Mayor White said. ("Boston Proper" includes downtown, Back Bay, Fenway, North End, South End, and Chinatown.)

The number of cases from each Boston neighborhood were as follows: Allston-Brighton, 60; Boston Proper, 51; Charlestown, 2; Dorchester, 20; East Boston, 11; Hyde Park, 5; Jamaica Plain, 9; Mattapan, 22; Roslindale, 24; Roxbury, 8; and West Roxbury, 8.

Thomas A. Sullivan, chairman of the Board of Rent Appeals, said he felt the board was fair to both landlord and tenant interests.

"In one case on Peterborough street in the Back Bay," Mr. Sullivan said, "tenants joined together to bring a case against their landlord. Spearheaded by students in the building, acting in their own behalf and in behalf of the senior citizens in the building, a case was presented to the board to prove that the landlord was negligent. Photographs showing steps missing from a fire escape, holes in walls, and cracks in the foundation of the cellar were presented to the board which ordered the landlord to reduce rents as much as $10 per month.

"In another case on St. Botolph street in the Back Bay," Mr. Sullivan said, "the board heard a case in which a tenant had received a $10 increase, from $70 to $80 per month. Although it was only the first rental increase in two years, the building was found to be in such bad repair that the board ordered the landlord to make repairs noted by the city's Housing Inspection Department before collecting the $80 rent. The landlord has since made the repairs and is collecting his rent.

"In yet another case, a $5 increase was allowed in an Allston case where the board ruled that increased taxes and fuel costs justified such an increase," Mr. Sullivan noted.

Veterans' Abatements

Mayor Kevin White reminded Boston veterans on June 3 that they need not receive a disability certificate from the Veterans Administration this year in order to qualify for veterans' abatements from the city.

"Applications for veterans' abatements to be credited on 1970 real estate tax bills were mailed out on April 1, 1970," Mayor White said. "Veterans need only return these applications as soon as possible to the city's Assessing Department in order to receive their abatements."

Bunker Hill Day

Battle of Bunker Hill June 17, 1775

When General Washington was told that there had been a battle at Bunker Hill he asked: "Did the militia fight?" On being told that they fought he remarked: "Then the liberties of the country are safe." By that one sentence Washington showed that he realized the importance of the Battle of Bunker Hill, the first real battle of the American Revolution. This famous battle was fought on June 17, 1775, before Washington took command of the Army.

The colonial forces had been holding the British at bay in Boston, and heard that the enemy was planning to occupy some of the hills about the city. On the night of June 16, Colonel Prescott and his men started out to prevent this by occupying Bunker Hill, but they changed their plans and fortified Breed's Hill instead. On the morning of June 17, the British were amazed to see trenches crowning the hill. The vessels in the harbor immediately began bombarding the fortification, and later in the day the British troops attacked it. Twice they advanced to the attack. All was silent as they marched up the hill, for General Putnam had given the command: "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes!" When they were within a few yards of the fortifications, a sheet of flame swept down the hill. The men in the front ranks were mowed down and the others beat a hasty retreat. A third time the British charged. This time nothing happened for the powder of the colonial forces was exhausted. The patriots fought with clubbed muskets, but were forced to retreat to Bunker Hill, leaving the battlefield in the hands of the British.

It was a victory which was dearly bought, however, for the British had lost 226 men killed and 828 wounded, while the loss of the Americans had been 145 killed and 304 wounded. Nathaniel Greene said, "I wish we could sell them another hill at the same price." Today a granite shaft 221 feet high stands near the spot where the gallant General Warren fell just as the retreat began. The cornerstone of this "Bunker Hill monument" was laid by Lafayette in 1825, the 50th anniversary of the battle. The monument was dedicated in 1843, with an oration by Daniel Webster.

Health Benefit and Insurance Program

To All City and County Department Heads.

One of the most important fringe benefits being offered to city and county employees is Health and Life Insurance.

Each new employee, regardless of age, should be made aware of this fine program, and be advised that unless they enroll within sixty days of the date of employment, it would then require a doctor's certificate.

The earliest effective date in this program, is the first of the month following thirty days of employment. Any delay in completing enrollment cards only delays the effective date.

All employees, except those working less than twenty hours a week, or who are thirty-day emergency appointees, are eligible.

A supply of enrollment cards and brochures explaining the program may be obtained by contacting Room 267, Boston City Hall.

DUNCAN T. FOLEY,
Supervisor of Personnel.

Public Library Initiates Original Drawings Display

As a salute to the generous contributions architects have made to the heritage of our country, the Boston Public Library has arranged a very impressive June display of architectural renderings by William Gibbons Preston (F.A.I.A.), 1844-1910. The large, original drawings are being shown for the first time in advance of the 102d annual meeting of the American Institute of Architects to be held in Boston, June 21-26.

The renderings have been selected from the Library's 54-volume collection of Preston's work, no part of which has ever been exhibited. There are on view drawings for Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Rogers Building, Bonwit Teller, the Hotel Vendome, the First Corps Cadet Armory, and the old Mechanics Building which was demolished to make room for the south section of Prudential Center.

William Gibbons Preston was a prominent 19th century architect who designed many of Boston's most notable buildings. He spent several years working in the architectural office of his father, Jonathan Preston (1801-1888), before leaving for Paris to study at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts. On his return to Boston, he began practice in association with his father in 1861.

Among Preston's earliest works was the Rogers Building for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for which he made preliminary designs while still in Paris. This was the first professional school of architecture in America. The Rogers Building was located at the site of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, right next door to the former Museum of Natural History building which is now occupied by Bonwit Teller.

A short distance away another building, the First Corps Cadet Armory, which Preston also designed, has been put to a new use. It is now housing the growing Library for the University of Massachusetts.

Other well-known Boston buildings designed by Preston were the Quincy Market Cold Storage Warehouses (now in danger of demolition), six early buildings for Boston University, as well as numerous other commercial buildings in the downtown area, and residences in the Back Bay.

Mr. Preston designed many private estates in the suburbs of Boston, at Narragansett Pier, Rhode Island, and Savannah, Georgia, where he also designed the Cotton Exchange, the Court House, and the DeSoto Hotel.

The public is invited to view the display of original architectural renderings, free of charge, any weekday in June from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. or on Saturdays from 9 A.M. to 6 P.M. The renderings by Preston may be found in the sixteen display cases in the Main Lobby and in the North and South Corridors of the first floor of Boston's Central Library.

Our Poisoned Earth

Man has come face-to-face with a critical man-made peril — the poisoning of his environment with noxious doses of chemicals, garbage, fumes, sewage, noise, ugliness, and urban overcrowding. We are beginning to pay a fearful price for our carelessness.

Lake Erie might stand as a symbol of this destruction. It is dead. No one knows when it died. No one paid attention. But now ecology, the study of the environment — "the web of life" — is alerting us to severe problems too long ignored. Here are just a few:

Massive production means massive filth. With only 5.7 percent of world population, the United States produces 50 percent of its industrial pollution. What Americans breathe now is closer to circulating filth than air.

Each year the United States paves over 1,000,000 acres of oxygen-producing trees.

Most pollutants end up in the oceans — which might lose their vast powers for self-purification.

Excess noise may cause physiological damage to unborn babies and impair the health — mental and physical — of the living.

Respiratory ailments grow at alarming rates. Emphysema, a lung disease, is the fastest-growing cause of death in the United States.

"We are in a period of grace," says ecologist Barry Commoner. "We have perhaps a generation in which to save the environment."

Your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association is concerned with the dire warnings. More than ever — It's a matter of life and breath!

Tax Refund Delay

Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer should have either his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, William E. Williams, District Director of Internal Revenue for Massachusetts, said recently.

A taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should, therefore, wait ten weeks before writing IRS. Most taxpayers will find their inquiry unnecessary if they wait this long, Mr. Williams said.

Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the North Atlantic Service Center which serves New England and New York taxpayers. That many returns makes it practically impossible to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing cycles are complete.

If it does become necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 8

To All Department Heads.

GENTLEMEN:

You are hereby authorized to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to employees of your department who are duly accredited delegates of the Department of Massachusetts, Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention being held in Hyannis, Mass., on June 17 through June 21, 1970.

Such leave of absence shall not impair departmental operation to an extent that it will be necessary to incur overtime expense or the employment of temporary personnel to perform the duties of said delegates during the permitted leave of absence.

If overtime expense or employment of substitute personnel will be required, then said delegates may be granted leave of absence only with loss of pay.

Very truly yours,

KEVIN H. WHITE,
Mayor.

Archery Program Started

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department Archery Program at the Roslindale Recreation Center reports tremendous interest in the activities taught there by Miss Collette Paquette.

The program began with the fundamental safety rules and the basic steps to target archery. The archers then began to score.

Paul Ryan achieved a score of 131 out of a possible 270 at 20 yards, earning the title of Bowman Medal. Dennis Lee, 128, Bowman; Michael Crehan, 115; Brian Howell, 110.

Those who at 15 yards scored over 100, earning the title of Yeoman, were: Diane Wood, 146; Christopher Yee, 112; Joan Fritz, 107; Virginia Sivanton, 107.

Classes will be learning field archery which is believed by some archers to be more accurate at greater distances.

This summer the Boston Parks and Recreation Department Day Camp at Hale Reservation in Westwood will include a comprehensive archery program. Registration for the Day Camp will be made available at the local gym and field headquarters at Pinebank in Jamaica Plain.

Girls' Basketball League

The Boston Neighborhood Basketball League for Girls starts in less than one week. Openings are available in the nineteen years of age and over group. Teams and players interested in participating are urged to call their neighborhood league directors as soon as possible. There are also openings in the fifteen years of age and under group.

"We have had an overwhelming turnout for the nineteen and under league," Miss Alfreda Harris, director of girls' basketball, said, "but we hope more older and younger girls will join."

For more information, girls call City Hall 722-4100 and talk with either Alfreda Harris, extension 136, or Louise Kennedy, extension 156.

Mayor Seeks Added Police Protection for Mattapan

Mayor Kevin White announced on June 14 that the City of Boston will apply for a $150,000 federal grant for added police protection in the Dorchester-Mattapan area.

The grant from the Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration would be used for salaries of additional policemen and for implementation of innovative law enforcement methods.

Details of the pilot program have not been firmed up, but the city is considering purchase of police radios for policemen's private cars and assigning policemen to patrol in teams of three, White said.

The program, which would be funded under the Safe Streets Act, was initiated by members of the Dorchester-Mattapan community through the Dorchester-Mattapan Task Force of the Mayor's Office of Human Rights.

Registrar Urges Safe Driving

"I am deeply concerned about the safety of children during the summer months. Last year, during July and August, over 3,000 children were injured and 20 killed on our highways," Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin said.

"If only drivers, parents and guardians would STOP and consider that this could happen to their boys and girls this summer, they would, I am sure, take positive steps to STOP this needless suffering and slaughter," McLaughlin said.

The closing of schools is already evident by congested travel conditions on our highways, according to McLaughlin. Added to the more than 2.6 million Massachusetts vehicles, huge numbers of visitors from out of state will soon make exposure to highway collisions greater than ever before unless drivers adapt their thinking and actions to cope with crowded travel conditions.

"I am asking drivers, parents and guardians to use the utmost caution to prevent injury and loss of life during the summer months."

"Residents of this troubled area have expressed an interest in helping the city provide adequate police protection in Dorchester and Mattapan," the Mayor said. "Several months ago we responded by assigning an additional 15 policemen to the area, and more recently, we initiated an auxiliary police program."

Mayor Urges Safety Program For Jamaicaaway

(Mayor Kevin White sent the following letter to Commissioner Sears on Friday, June 19, 1970):

Commissioner John W. Sears,
Metropolitan District Commission,
20 Somerset Street,
Boston, Mass.

DEAR COMMISSIONER SEARS:

For some time I have been concerned about the problem of automobile accidents on the Jamaicaaway. For this reason I have in the past supported the MDC proposal to develop a one-way system to ease this problem.

More recently, however, interested residents of Jamaica Plain have asked that I reconsider my position on the traffic scheme in view of the damage some aspects of the plans would cause to the park and recreation functions of the area. In reviewing the details of the MDC proposal, I have become convinced that certain aspects of the plan are unnecessarily destructive to the physical beauty of the park, and that safety improvements can be effected while retaining a greater respect for the physical features of the place.

In addition, the Governor has decided that a new metropolitan transportation planning effort will be launched based on a new policy emphasis of an increased role for public transportation facilities on abutting areas. The Jamaicaaway project has always left questions unresolved as to the relationship of increased capacity in Jamaica Plain with existing bottlenecks further in town, and undeveloped transit opportunities further out of town. These are the kind of questions the new study is supposed to resolve.

Further, the Town of Brookline has (as you know) recently brought successful court action to prevent the destruction of park land for highway purposes without specific legislative authorization, an event which affirms the responsibility of the municipality in protecting park lands.

In the light of these events, I am proposing for your consideration the following two-phase policy:

First, any consideration of major expenditures to increase capacity on the Jamaicaaway, such as the present MDC plan, should be deferred at least until the new metropolitan transportation study evaluates the complex and interrelated transportation questions of the Southwest Corridor.

Secondly, an immediate action short range safety program for the Jamaicaaway should be devised. Since the Town of Brookline, the City of Boston, and local residents of both communities all have a large stake in the question, I urge that the safety program be a joint effort, including representatives of these interests as well as MDC representatives. The task of this joint effort should be to consider such short term possibilities as better street lighting, stricter speed limit enforcement, a one-way system without any major physical changes, etc., and to recommend within six weeks a program for immediate implementation to decrease the danger on the Jamaicaaway.

I feel certain that this two-phase approach to the problem offers the best hope for relieving the serious safety problems of the Jamaicaaway, while respecting the physical features of the park. For my part, I will not participate in the transfer of any Boston park land until this or a similar effort has been made.

Very truly yours,

KEVIN H. WHITE,
Mayor of Boston.

New Building Code Booklet Available

City Building Commissioner Richard Thuma announced last week that the new building code for the City of Boston will be effective July 1, 1970, and will be available for sale in booklet form during the first week of July.

The code was approved by Mayor Kevin White on December 16, 1969. According to Commissioner Thuma, the code "is a performance code rather than a specification code because it permits more flexibility and ingenuity in achieving the required protection for the building and ultimately to the building users and the public."

City-wide Voter Registration Started

Joseph D. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners, announced last week that a city-wide voter registration drive began on Saturday, June 20.

The Election Department has leased four vans which will be staffed by registrars to travel to each of the city's 273 precincts.

Only 235,000 of the city's 462,000 eligible residents are registered to vote. The 137,000 unregistered potential voters are the target of the drive.

Every area of the city will be visited for a three-hour stop in the evening or on Saturday now through August 15 when registration closes. During the day the vans will stop at MBTA stations, factories, and shopping centers.

The city will cooperate in scheduling the vans with all neighborhood groups that wish to work on voter registration.

To register to vote an adult must be 21 or older by election day, a one-year resident of the state, a six-month resident of the city.

Voter registration continues daily through August 15 at City Hall and Little City Halls.

On Saturday, June 20, registration vans were in Ward 1, East Boston; Ward 2, Charlestown; Ward 20, West Roxbury; and Wards 8 and 9, South End.

MBTA Advisory Board Reelects Mayor White Chairman

Statement of Mayor Kevin White before the MBTA Advisory Board:

I thank you for the honor of being reelected your chairman. It's a pleasure to win an election for a change.

I accept this job for another year with mixed emotions. I have some enthusiasm for the task, but mostly I sense that we're in for further frustration.

There is frustration because we have seen a crisis coming for over a year—and we have been unable to get the Governor or the Legislature to recognize the problem.

In simple terms, the MBTA is starting to fall apart. If you think I am being overly dramatic, let's look at the evidence.

First, the deficit will climb from $32 million last year to approximately $55 million this year. The property tax in the cities and towns cannot bear this increase.

Second, the $300-million bond authorization is stalled in the Legislature. No one can seem to figure out who will pay the debt service. Certainly, we can all agree that the local property tax cannot bear this additional burden.

Third, a citizens' revolt is brewing. Peabody just voted to end all local service. Other cities and towns have petitioned the Legislature. This trend toward deterioration will continue unless strong action is taken.

In the midst of this crisis sits a leaderless MBTA. The General Manager has resigned. The General Counsel has resigned. The Board Chairman will leave at the end of the summer.

I, for one, believe that the crisis that we all saw coming is now upon us.

July 4, Independence Day

The Declaration of Independence from Great Britain was passed by the Continental Congress at Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania, in 1773, was the first state to make the occasion a legal holiday. However, there is a record of its observance by the citizens of New Bern, North Carolina, in 1778. And it was celebrated elsewhere before the action of Pennsylvania was followed by all the states.

We can no longer postpone action, for this situation will not cure itself. The MBTA Board must get about the business of filling the management vacancies.

But filling the vacancies isn't enough. We have to make some major reforms in the system if we expect the new management to have a fighting chance.

First, we have to support changes which will improve productivity. This means the archaic legal restrictions on the management—like the power plant law—must be abolished.

The Altschuler Task Force confirmed what all of us already know—productivity at the MBTA is abysmally low when compared with other transit systems. The new management must make improvements in productivity if it expects popular support for the system.

Second, we have to reduce the pressure on the property tax. If we don't, other cities and towns will join Peabody in leaving the system. In the long run, changing the Highway Fund into a transportation fund will be a major improvement. The Legislature took an important first step in that direction this year. However, it will take at least two years before the Constitutional amendment can be put on the ballot. We cannot afford to wait that long. Some interim emergency steps must be taken now. One suggestion would be to enact a temporary increase in a luxury tax. We could add 2 cents to the cigarette tax and produce an additional $12 million a year for mass transit. Another suggestion would be to enact a temporary increase in the gas tax, with the funds earmarked to be returned to the cities and towns for local street and traffic work. A 1-cent increase would mean $19 million a year which could be used to reduce the pressures on the local property tax.

The important thing is not what we do—but that we do something. The MBTA may not survive until we can open up the Highway Fund.

There was a time when only Boston, Cambridge, and Somerville felt the pressures of the MBTA deficit. That time has passed. The deficit has grown so large that every city and town represented has a stake in reform.

The cities and towns which we represent make up half of this Commonwealth. If we speak with one voice, the Governor and the Legislature must begin to hear what we are saying.

Bridge Construction Delayed

The announcement on June 22 of the proceedings of the bankruptcy action being undertaken by the Penn Central Railroad is expected to cause a further delay of the rebuilding of the Summer Street Bridge.

Mayor White has instructed the Corporation Counsel to investigate the situation. When his report is made to the Mayor, a meeting will be held to determine the best course of action for the city to follow to minimize the length of delay on the project.

Mayor White expressed extreme disappointment upon receiving the news of the Penn Central's action, inasmuch as months of negotiations with the Penn Central had reached a point where the contract for the repairs of the bridge was to be signed this week.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, JULY 6, 1970

No. 27

Summer Work Projects Sought By Mayor White

Boston residents will be asked for ideas for neighborhood improvement projects in their areas as part of the city's Second Annual Summer Work Program, Mayor Kevin White announced on June 29.

Last year more than 2,000 projects were completed under the program which employs some 400 high school and college students each summer. The program, which is largely financed by three federal grants, employs students on improvement projects in their own neighborhoods.

"What makes this program unique and extremely successful is that the youths are assigned to work in their own neighborhoods," Mayor White said. "Not only do they work on projects suggested by residents but they also suggest their own. Thus, they can take pride in the work they do to improve the environment in which they live. When students build a tot lot which their younger sisters or brothers use, or repair a baseball diamond on which they themselves play, their sense of achievement is much greater than if they were merely working with a city crew in a strange neighborhood."

Besides clean-up and fix-up projects in parks, playgrounds, and vacant lots, the projects completed last summer included the construction of basketball courts, baseball diamonds, and tot lots. In East Boston, a bocci court (Italian bowling) was built on a vacant lot in Maverick square.

Under the direction of neighborhood Little City Hall staffs, eight-man teams of high school students with one college supervisor, will work for a ten-week period through September 4. The program, which also includes various recreational and cultural activities planned for the youths, is largely organized by the students themselves. Besides the Little City Hall staffs, they work closely with community groups, area residents, and city department personnel.

"Last year's program was so successful that more than half of the students have returned to work again this year," Mayor White said.

Projects already scheduled for this year include:

East Boston—Construction of five additional bocci courts in the neighborhood and a basketball court at the Chapman School.

Hyde Park—Construction of a tot lot on Poplar street.

Roxbury—Organizing a community clean-up day for the Orchard Park housing projects.

Allston-Brighton — Construction of a playground in the Fidelis Way project.

Brighton—Painting the Brighton Municipal Building.

Roslindale—Cleaning and painting railroad tunnels.

Jamaica Plain—Construction of a playground on Lamartine street.

Charlestown—Construction of a playground on Cook street.

Dorchester—Installation of historic markers throughout the neighborhood.

South End—Construction and installation of public bulletin boards and litter baskets.

South Boston—Paint field house and repair Christopher Lee Playground.

West Roxbury—Plant shrubs and rock garden around new Little City Hall trailer.

Mattapan—Help repair damaged synagogues.

North End—Restoration of the Prado.

Federal funding for the program has been obtained in grants from the Neighborhood Youth Corps of the Labor Department, the Community Improvement Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the College Work Study Program of the Office of Economic Opportunity. To qualify for the program students had to demonstrate economic need.

Positions are still available for College Work Study Supervisors.

Registry Provides Additional Service

Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin announced on June 23 that the Quincy and Worcester District Offices of the Registry will provide walk-in service for written examinations for Learner Permits beginning on June 29.

This special service is a time-saver for driver license applicants seeking Learner Permits since they no longer will have to set up a prior appointment which could mean a delay before the examination is given.

Applicants are reminded to have $2 with them for the examination fee for a Learner Permit. Walk-in service does not apply to road tests.

New Swimming Pool for Dorchester Residents

Mayor Kevin White announced on June 25, that the city will build an indoor-outdoor swimming pool in Dorchester in cooperation with the expansion program of Dorchester House, a private, nonprofit community center at 1351 Dorchester avenue.

The Mayor signed a contract with the Federated Dorchester Neighborhood Houses, Inc., under which the city will build the pool on land owned by the nonprofit corporation. The pool will be open to all Dorchester residents.

"This joint project shows what can be accomplished when concerned citizens and city government unite to upgrade Boston's community service," Mayor White said. "Wherever feasible, my administration is more than willing to cooperate with the efforts of Boston residents in making our city a better place in which to live and work. The people of Dorchester have given us another fine example of citizen participation, which is an essential part of Boston life."

Besides the city-built swimming pool, a $1 million federal grant and $300,000 to be raised by the community will finance a new building for the Dorchester House. The new structure will house a gymnasium, senior citizen lounge, recreation and game rooms and meeting halls, according to Fred M. MacDonald, chairman of the Fields Corner Neighborhood Center steering committee of the Federated Dorchester Neighborhood Houses.

The present health facilities in the Dorchester House, operated by Tufts University Medical School and the Massachusetts College of Optometry, will remain in the present structure until federal funds can be obtained for a new health center, Mr. MacDonald said.

It does apply to Learner Permits for motorcycles, trucks and pleasure vehicles.

In addition to the Quincy and Worcester District Offices, Boston and Springfield will continue to provide walk-in service.

Harvard Health Plan Appoints Robert L. Biblo

Robert L. Biblo, former Director of Enrollment for the Kaiser Community Health Plan of Cleveland, has been named Executive Director of the Harvard Community Health Plan, a nonprofit, prepaid comprehensive health plan now enrolling members in the Greater Boston area.

Headquarters of the plan are at 690 Beacon street (off Kenmore square) in Boston.

Mr. Biblo joined the HCHP in December, 1969. As Executive Director he succeeds Professor Jerome Pollack who has resigned to devote full time to his academic and administrative responsibilities as Professor of the Economics of Medical Care and Associate Dean of the Faculty of Medicine for Medical Care Planning.

On taking over his new duties, Mr. Biblo announced that the HCHP has entered into a contract with the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare to offer medical care services to those persons eligible for Medicaid residing in Boston's Mission Hill-Parker Hill area, the care to be financed on a prepaid per capita basis.

Mr. Biblo also disclosed that the HCHP has received a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service which will enable the plan to supplement health insurance premium payments to those in the Mission Hill-Parker Hill area whose income is just above the Medicaid maximum but who are unable to avail themselves of comprehensive medical care. Allocations from the supplemental program will be based on income and family size, Mr. Biblo stated. The income supplement will be limited to those in the Mission Hill-Parker Hill area.

Coincident with the award of a contract and receipt of the grant, Mr. Biblo said that a medical "Outreach Center" had been opened at 1575 Tremont street (Backbay Towers) in the Mission Hill area. The HCHP Outreach Center will provide primary medical care of a nonemergency nature in addition to referral information for social services and a child's sitter service (to enable mothers to visit social agencies or the HCHP center for medical care). The Outreach Center also provides a conference room where area mothers may meet for discussions and for instruction.

Studies also are under way, Mr. Biblo disclosed, for the establishment of services through hospitals located in outlying communities. Present cooperating hospitals are the Beth Israel Hospital, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston Hospital for Women (Lying-in Division), and the Children's Hospital Medical Center.

The Harvard Community Health Plan is the first comprehensive health plan in the nation to have the full cooperation of a medical school and its affiliated hospitals which guarantee physicians and hospital services.

The HCHP is underwritten by eleven insurance underwriters. They are: Massachusetts Blue Cross, Aetna Life, Connecticut General, Equitable, John Hancock, Liberty Mutual, Massachusetts Mutual, Metropolitan, Prudential, Travelers, and Union Mutual. Each of the underwriting firms which offer the HCHP as an alternate to subscribers is looking to the plan to provide many answers to critical health care problems among which are rising medical costs, physician shortages and the fragmentation of health services.

Mr. Biblo said that twenty-five physicians are now providing medical care in the HCHP, eight of whom are full time.

The Center on Beacon street is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, for emergency care.

Doctors' office visits, health checkups, and eye examinations are billed at a rate of $1 per visit. Other services as laboratory and X-ray services, counseling, physical therapy, immunizations, casts and dressings are available at no charge.

Mr. Biblo noted that the HCHP emphasizes preventive medicine, stressing periodic physical checkups for each member.

Boston Commission Studies Carbon Monoxide

Mayor Kevin White recently announced that carbon monoxide levels at busy intersections in Boston are being measured by the Boston Air Pollution Control Commission. The study, performed in cooperation with Dr. Frank Speizer of Boston City Hospital and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, will provide data for use in evaluating occupational exposure to carbon monoxide (CO) and will help to prepare air quality standards regarding CO concentrations.

"The automobile is the principal source of carbon monoxide in Boston's atmosphere," said David Standley, Executive Director of the Commission. Samples will be collected initially in the Park square, Washington street, and North Station areas of downtown Boston. Variables considered will include traffic density, temperature, and wind speed.

"The air samples, collected in plastic bags, are subsequently analyzed for CO content by our staff, using the equipment of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health," Mr. Standley explained.

Participating in the program are several college students employed by the Boston Commission under the federal Work-Study Program.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT ELECTRICAL DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM, MATTAPAN CHRONIC DISEASE HOSPITAL

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As authorized by the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby request for and on its behalf the permission of your Honor to dispense with a public solicitation for competitive bids by invitation published in the chronicle of municipal affairs, the City Record, in awarding a contract to Fay, Spofford & Thorndyke, Inc., Consulting Engineers, with offices at 11 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., to conduct a comprehensive survey of the electrical distribution system at Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital and thereafter to file a detailed report thereon, including specific recommendations for the rehabilitation of that electrical system, at a cost for said services not to exceed $8,100; and to execute such contract in the name and on behalf of that Commission, upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor of Boston.

The aforementioned engineering firm is especially well equipped with the staff, training and experience for this kind of work and has, in fact, successfully carried out a considerable volume of professional work for the City of Boston Public Works Department during recent years.

Furthermore, the subject services are, as indicated, in the category of a technical and professional undertaking and as a result it is my conviction that public advertising here would not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

SUPPLEMENTARY SERVICES, NEW GEORGETOWNE SCHOOL

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On November 5, 1969, the City of Boston entered into an unadvertised contract with Charles A. Maguire and Associates, Inc., architects, of 178 Tremont street, Boston, Mass., encompassing the preparation of preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications and cost estimates for use in constructing the new Georgetown School in the West Roxbury District of the city, at a cost for such professional services in the amount of not to exceed $87,600, including therein the sum of $5,000 for supplementary services.

However, it is now ascertained that supplementary services costing in excess of our best prior estimates for the same are required here. In fact, our needs in that regard are not only greater in volume but in an additional category as well. To be precise, the architect had completed schematic designs for the project and now will have to redesign, based on a revised access for the completed project, due to community opposition. Again, the quantity of both core and earth borings, as well as the rock corings which are necessitated at the project, exceed the initial estimate of the requirements therefor.

Therefore, and for and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, I respectfully request the written authorization of your Honor to dispense with a public solicitation for bids therefor and to amend the subject contract with Charles A. Maguire Associates, Inc., so as to increase the amount to be devoted to supplementary services under the contract from $5,000 to $15,000, an increase of not to exceed $10,000. The total amount authorized to be expended under the contract will correspondingly increase from $87,600 to $97,600.

The principal contract in the present instance constitutes a formal arrangement under the authority of the Charter, for the furnishing of professional services to the city in which circumstances; it is my best judgment that formal advertising for competitive bids for the purpose of enlarging the scope of such services would be of no avail to the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.
